Construction Beehive Buzzes With Activity

Daly City has taken on the appearance of an unusually busy beehive recently with construction activity moving at a rapid pace in several quarters of the city.

A record year in both building construction and roads is off to an early start.

The state's long-awaited Junipero Serra Freeway is taking on tangible shape with preliminary grading going on in four separate locations along the present Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Included in the freeway project, which will extend 2.6 miles from the present terminus of the Southern Freeway in San Francisco to a point just south of Eastmoor Avenue, are 10 overcrossings, two undercrossings and an interchange.

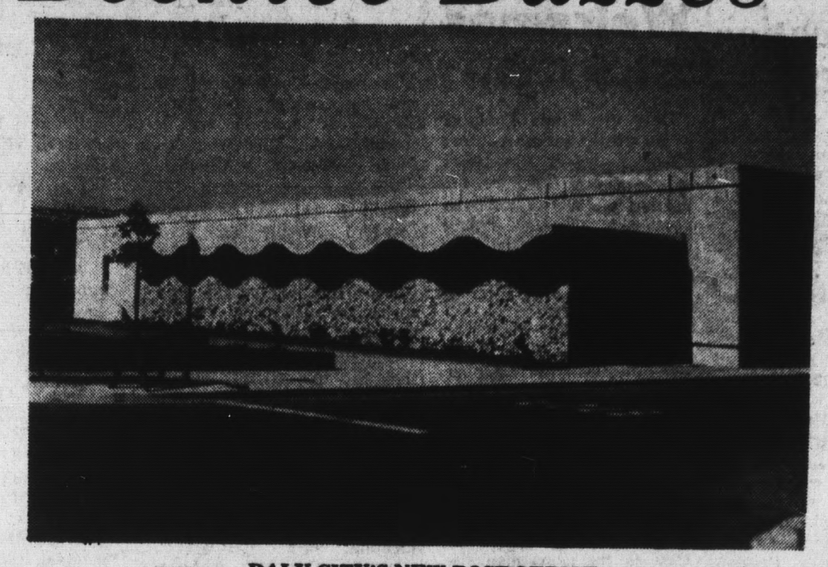
A time limit of 510 working days, or around May of 1966, has been set for completion of the work. The Peter Kewitt Company is the general contractor.

THE LARGEST undertaking is at the intersection of Knowles Avenue and Alemany and Junipero Serra Boulevards where a massive interchange is now being constructed.

The city's $150,000 Knowles-Los Banos Street improvement project is being timed to 'dovetail" into the construction of the interchange.

City Engineer William Chapman said demolition bids for buildings on both Los Banos and Knowles will go out next month with completion of the project set for October.

The county's role in road building is evident in two recently completed road projects —White Street and the Market Street Extension.



DALY CITY'S NEW POST OFFICE

The White Street project had been held up by a court battle with the Jefferson Elementary School District because the road was to be built through play areas of the Benjamin Franklin and Garden Village Schools.

The road connects Broadmoor with the Westlake Shopping Center and leads into Park Plaza Drive.

The Market Street Extension runs from Daly City to Radio Road on San Bruno Mountain. Eventually the road will provide Daly City with a connection to Bayshore Freeway.

TO THE WEST, the new Gateway Drive undercrossing, connecting the Westlake Terrace section of Daly City to the Fairmont section of Pacifica, was recently opened.

In other building activity, the "colossus to the south," the 916-acre Serramonte development, is still in the throes of a massive grading operation and has been the subject of complaints by South San Francisco residents because of dust from the grading.

Close to the Serramonte activity is the 10-story Mary's Help Hospital, which it is estimated, will cost about $10-million.

Daly City's new post office at Eighty-eighth Street and Sullivan Avenue is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy soon.

In apartment construction, Daly City has, in five months, already exceeded the number of units constructed during the past five years.

Most of the new apartments are being constructed by developer Gus Pedemonte. Among the larger developments are (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Six-Cent Daly City Tax Hike Proposed

IN DALY CITY

Refuse Strike Is Threatened

A previous request for an increase in the garbage collecting rate in Daly City took on a harsh new light Monday when the Sanitary Truck Drivers and Helpers Union informed the city council that it is contemplating a strike against the Daly City Scavenger Company at any time.

The strike may place the city in unwanted roles of either mediator between the union and company or garbage collecting.

According to a letter from Fernando Bussi, secretary-treasurer of the union, negotiations between the union and the scavenger company broke down Monday afternoon when the company said it would not consider any increase in pay until February 1, 1965.

He said that means the employes would be asked to work a year without any increase.

Richard Dwyer, accountant for the scavenger firm, said the company is willing to reopen negotiations with the union if the rate increase is granted by the city.

He said the union has put the company in a corner by bringing the matter to the council.

"We are already paying one of the highest pay scales in the Bay area," Dwyer said.

City attorney Paul Hupf informed the council that it was the city's responsibility to collect the garbage.

The city has contracted with the Daly City Scavenger Company to do the collecting and has granted the firm a franchise for it.

Hupf said that the council has "broad powers" in the contractual arrangement with the company and they attach reasonable conditions in granting the franchise.

Councilman Edward Dennis said the city should start making arrangements to have the garbage picked up.

He criticized the company for saying in two letters to the council that increasing labor costs were one of the prime factors for the suggested rate increase but at the same time denying the employes a raise.

Dennis said the company is asking for a "blank check" from the council and suggested that a raise in pay be attached as a stipulation for a rate increase.

Mayor Micheal DeBarnardi said it is not the perogative of the city council to get involved in labor negotiations. He said the raise must be dependent on (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Personnel Board Asks Amendments

The Pacifica City Council tonight will consider the first complete review of the city's personnel rules and regulations since their adoption four years ago.

The personnel advisory board recommends amendments to enlarge the scope of matters that may be brought to the board for appeal and to increase the probation period for new employes from six months to a year.

The probation amendment would tighten up initial processing of new employes.

No recommendation will be made concerning new provisions for sick leave until the board completes study on the provisions later this summer.

A progress report on final drafting of a new house-moving ordinance will be presented to councilmen by the city attorney's office. Under the new ordinance, substantial penalties and performance bonds would be levied on all parties concerned.

John Sherman, deputy city attorney, stresses that it is in the public interest that all build- (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

2 Tie Votes Halt School Unity Plans

Committee Is Back Where It Began

The muddy waters of unification in the North County were swirled around a bit more Thursday night in Daly City and when they cleared, the San Mateo County Committee on School Reorganization, augmented by five North County school districts, found itself back where it started several months ago.

Tie votes on a plan to set up two unified districts by splitting the Jefferson High School District put the county committee in the position of determing which of two rejected studies it should resume.

The augmented committee two months ago had voted down a plan to unify the elementary districts of Jefferson, Brisbane, Bayshore and Laguna Salada with the Jefferson High School District.

The absence of two county committee members, Douglas Emory and Dr. Ernest Nelson, and dramatic switches in the votes of two of the elementary school districts resulted in the tie.

Because of a legal requirement that only the districts involved can vote for unification, two votes had to be taken Thursday.

On a plan to unify Laguna Salada with the southern half of the high school district, a split among six members of the county committee, an affirmative vote by Laguna Salada and a negative vote by the high school district resulted in the tie.

Opposition To Hickey Unchanged

Residents of the West Winston Manor Community Association were still unconvinced after a special meeting Monday afternoon with county engineers and planners that a proposed extension of Hickey Boulevard was still the best cross-county route for South San Francisco.

Members of the association met again with County Engineer Don Wilson and two engineers involved in the original drafting of the county master plan which designated Hickey Boulevard as a cross-county route.

Opposition by the homeowners group has held up a decision by the South San Francisco City Council to designate a portion of Hickey as part of the county road system enabling the county to go ahead with its plan to build the major thoroughfare.

More Needed, Official Says At Dedication

"Thornton Beach is only one of several hundred more facilities that we need in California today," Charles DeTurk, state director of parks and recreation declared at formal dedication ceremonies of Thornton Beach State Park in Daly City Saturday.

Speaking before a crowd of state, county and city officials DeTurk asked for support in passing a $150-million bond issue in November for the acquisition and development of recreational areas.

The park director said it has been estimated that by the year 2000, visitors wishing to use park facilities will have to make (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

D.C. Woman Dies Of Fire Injuries

A Daly City woman died last week of burns she received May 20 when her clothes caught fire from a cigarette.

Dead is Mrs. Josie Tilford, 52, of 19 Perita Drive. She died Wednesday in St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco. Hospital officials said she had suffered burns over 75 per cent of her body.

The victim had been discovered by a neighbor who called Mrs. Tilford's daughter at work, Sally Butts, who lived with her mother.

The daughter rushed home and phoned Mercy Ambulance Service: "Send an ambulance. My mother's burnt."

Ambulance attendants notified Daly City firemen after arriving at the scene, then rushed Mrs. Tilford to the hospital.

Firemen said Mrs. Tilford apparently had been lying on a couch when her clothes caught fire from a cigarette she was smoking.

They reported that it appeared that the woman then ripped off some of the burning garments and also tried to smother the flames by wrapping herself with window drapes.

A portion of a rug had been burned where Mrs. Tilford had either fallen or where she had discarded the burning clothes.

GOP CONVENTION

A Lot of Headaches

(Editor's note: This is the second in a series of articles on preparations for the Republican Party nominating convention at the Cow Palace in Daly City next month.)

By LEE QUARNSTROM

Planning for something as big as the Republican Convention takes a lot of work and causes a lot of headaches.

Arrangements for the affair are being made on many fronts.

Two nerve centers of planning in San Francisco are at the offices of the Convention and Visitor's Bureau and at the GOP arrangements headquarters in a fifth-floor suite at the St. Francis Hotel.

There's no doubt that San Francisco will benefit greatly from the convention. Perhaps that's why San Franciscans seem to believe the Cow Palace is in their baliwick rather than in Daly City.

The benefits to the city are pointed up by the furious activity at the Convention and Visitor's Bureau. The group was working on the convention long before the Cow Palace was selected as the site.

In conjunction with former Mayor George Christopher and the Board of Supervisors the bureau planned San Francisco's bids for both the Democratic and Republican conventions.

Committees were formed, presentations were drawn up and most importantly, $400,000 was raised as guaranteed program revenue for which- (Please See Page 2, Col. 1)

STUDIES PLANNED

Council Given Record Budget

By RON BATES

A six-cent increase in Daly City's tax rate was proposed to the City Council Monday night by City Manager Edward Frank.

The increase is contained in a record tentative budget outlined by Frank, calling for expenditures of $6,618,610—a total that is almost double last year's figure of $3,589,069.

If approved by the council, the tax increase would be the first in three years. The boost would result in a rate of $1.538 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The present tax rate is $1.48.

Frank said the big increase in the budget is due primarily to $1,975,000 for construction of a new city hall and purchase of property.

He said the budget provides for eight more persons in the police and fire departments and 10 persons in all other departments.

"It also includes a recommendation for a cost-of-living increase of 2½ per cent for all employes and an additional 2½ per cent for policemen and firemen," Frank said. "The tax rate will only be affected by these increases."

Otherwise, all other increases, all additional personnel and all other increased governmental activities are taken care of by the increase in assessed valuation, carry-over surpluses and applied reserves, Frank explained.

Salaries amount to more than 50 per cent of the total budget.

Frank pointed out there has been no tax raise in the past three years, even though there have been consistent increases in costs and personnel.

Finance Director Joseph Arch estimated the tax raise will cost the average Daly City homeowner approximately $2.20 a year.

"For that, he will be receiving extra police and fire protection and increased services in various departments in the city," Arch said.

An audible gasp swept through the council chambers when Frank read last year's budget figures and the proposed budget this year.

"Don't be alarmed," Mayor Micheal DeBernardi said. "The (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Two Tie Votes Bar Untiy Plans

appointed county committee member, abstained because he said he was not familiar enough with the unification plan.

A hurried phone call to the district attorney's office for clarification of Robert's Rules of Order revealed that a motion dies in the case of a tie vote.

In the subsequent vote on the plan to unify the elementary school districts of Jefferson, Brisbane and Bayshore with the northern half of the high school district, surprise votes against the measure by Bayshore and Laguna Salada produced the tie.

As the last district to be polled, Laguna Salada thus had the power to either pass or kill the plan. The Pacifica board held a short caucus before casting its dramatic "no" vote.

Heated words were exchanged previous to the second vote among members of the Jefferson High and Jefferson Elementary boards when Doctor White offered to vote "yes" in order to bring the matter to a public hearing.

White made the suggestion after chairman Paul Bradley pointed out that the two absent committee members had previously voted for the high school split.

Elio Fontana, chairman of the high school board, objected to White's suggestion.

"We're only assuming that the absent committee members would vote yes," he said. "Laguna Salada has presented some figures tonight, which need study and may affect their votes. I think you should consider it very seriously before you change your vote."

George Perry of the Jefferson Elementary District countered: "I must apologize, Doctor White, for the treatment given to you by this section of the county. The remarks made tonight smack of intimidation."

Perry said that whatever action was taken by the augmented committee is "only a link in a chain that may be broken later."

At the beginning of the meeting, Bradley offered some observations on the effect of the recently passed Unruh Act on North County unification.

He said that the act "very clearly" points out that the state board of education must consider the boundaries of existing high school districts as the minimum geographical base for the organization of unified school districts—to be deviated from only in exceptional situations.

Bradley said that a difference in assessed valuation, caused by a split of the high school district, would be hard to defend before the state board.

Most of the high school district's assessed valuation comprises industry in Bayshore and Brisbane.

Dividing the district into two areas would leave the industry in only one of the two unified areas — creating the difference in assessed valuation.

Brisbane informed the county committee that it has asked the South San Francisco Unified School District if it would react "favorably" to annexation.

Al Rigler of Brisbane said the inquiry had been made to pave the way for consolidation of the two adjoining districts in case the plans studied at last night's meeting failed.

ings moved to new locations be renovated and brought up to code standards as soon as possible.

"Certainly the industry should operate with the highest degree of benefit and welfare to the public in the shortest possible amount of time," Sherman says.

He adds that some of the moving projects have cost taxpayers thousands of dollars before all errors were corrected and those concerned were completely satisfied.

The council also will set a date for a hearing on a proposed ordinance that would settle a heated controversy regarding the prohibition of "For Sale" signs on front lawns.

The local real estate association has asked the council to pass an ordinance prohibiting the signs in an effort to improve the aesthetic appearance of the community.

But the State Fair Employment Practices Commission maintains this ordinance actually is an attempt to get around the state's new Fair Housing Act.

Tonight, councilmen will hear whether Pacifica will receive state money to improve certain streets. Under the Collier-Unruh Act passed last September, new gas tax moneys are available for expenditure on certain city streets throughout the state.

The city engineer's office has presented a report to the California State Highway Commission, describing Pacifica's major municipal streets. The commission is scheduled to act upon the report this afternoon.

The council also will act upon written communications tonight from two Pacifica establishments who are applying to the Alcohol Beverage Control Board for permission to serve beer.

These applications are being made by Billie and Dewey Kernegay, 4430 Coast Highway, and Sun Wan Hong and S. Wing Hong, Golden Lantern Cafe, 275 Hewitt Avenue.

Tax Increase Is Proposed budget figure is not necessarily the thing that determines the tax rates."

DeBernardi pointed to the large expenditure for the new city hall and said that the council had been putting money aside for the past two years to pay for it.

He said the recommendations made by Frank may not necessarily be acceptable to the council. Discussion meetings were scheduled for yesterday and tomorrow.

Department heads had submitted individual budgets that totaled $6,992,860.

reservations two years in advance.

"The year 2000 is only 36 years away," he cautioned.

Earlier, Daly City Mayor Micheal DeBernardi, master of ceremonies, introduced State Senator Richard Dolwig as "the prime pusher in Sacramento" for the state park. Commenting on the introduction, DeTurk said:

"Before you have a pusher, you have to have a pushee. I only wish we had more pushers in Sacramento."

He praised San Mateo County for its work in providing recreational areas but said the rest of the state has not been as fortunate.

Other speakers, including Senator Dolwig, Supervisor James Fitzgerald and Dave Friedenberg and Edward Morgan of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, stressed the fact that a joint effort by all the agencies—from the chamber to the State Senate—resulted in the development of Thornton Beach Park at an estimated cost of $200,000.

The land originally had been donated by Henry Doelger.

Among others present at the dedication were Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, Edward Dolder, chief of the state division of parks and beaches; Jess Chaffee, district superintendent of state parks; Municipal Court Judge Charles Becker, Supervisor Louis Chess, Supervisor-elect Joseph Verducci, Daly City Councilmen Edward Dennis, Frank Pacelli, and Albert Polonsky, and Daly City Recreation Commissioners Wilfred O'Rourke, Arthur Elston and Anne Eason.

Banner Bows To the Wind

Plans by Daly City officials to raise a 40-foot banner Saturday, welcoming the Republican Convention, were literally blown to the winds.

The banner-raising was postponed until this morning because of strong winds and an insufficient number of air holes in the banner.

Among the officials who came to view the ceremony were County Supervisor Louis Chess, supervisor-elect Joseph Verducci, Mayor Micheal DeBernardi, Councilmen Edward Dennis, Francis Pacelli and Albert Polonski, City Manager Edward Frank and Police Chief Roland Petrocchi.

The banner is a joint effort by the city and the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

ous condition in Peninsula Hospital's intensive care unit, with a fractured right hip and possible internal injuries.

Bustos' son, Jeffry, age 4, suffering from contusions of the chest and back, was listed as being in "fair" condition.

Sedan driver Leslie I. Halliday, 35, 208 Manor Drive, South San Francisco, was treated by his own physician, after the injured were rushed to Kaiser Foundation Emergency Hospital.

Police say the crash occurred about 5:10 p.m. in front of the Zellerbach warehouse at 245 South Spruce Avenue.

Officers said Bustos' 1961 sports roadster apparently crossed the center line, and smashed into Halliday's 1953 four-door sedan, striking it squarely in the center.

All three passengers in the sports car were thrown out.

Both the sedan and the roadster were total losses, it was estimated.

the facts presented by the company.

When the question of non-union help working for the company was raised, Dennis explained:

"I don't think the people of Daly City would want scab labor to pick up their garbage."

The council asked Hupf to explore the legal ramifications of the problem and finance director Joseph Arch to gather information on the financial position of the company for consideration at a special meeting Thursday.

The company is asking for a 25-cent increase from its present rate of $1.25 a month.

Brochure Welcomes The GOP

Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce members were given a preview last week of a four-page brochure welcoming the Republican convention to the Cow Palace and emphasizing the fact that the site of the convention is, indeed, Daly City and not San Francisco.

The attractive brochure, printed by the city in cooperation with the chamber, will be mailed to all news media personnel and delegates at the convention, scheduled to begin July 13.

The brochure contains a copy of the resolution passed by the State Senate, officially recognizing Daly City as the convention site, a letter from Mayor Micheal DeBernardi, a City Council resolution welcoming the convention and a fact sheet about Daly City.

A 24-hour information service will be operated by the city during the convention.

such," said John Siacotos, president of the association. "We do, however, object to the proposed placement of this major cross-county thoroughfare on the basis that a workable, suitable alternative route appears to us to exist—Collins Avenue."

Siacotos pointed out that Collins runs roughly parallel to Hickey and the state, county and city enigneers have admitted that it could be made to replace the proposed Hickey route.

He said that the group had expected the engineers at yesterday's meeting to come up with feasibility and cost studies comparing Hickey to Collins. They didn't.

"Collins was not included in the county master plan and therefore it wasn't studied, Siacotos said.

Wilson has pointed out that the road proposal was tested against a three point criteria—engineering practicality, cost and disruption of the neighborhood, he sad.

"Our position is that balanced against such a criteria, a Collins Avenue route should prevail," he said, "particularly if proper weight is given to the disruption factor."

How to Win Free Passes

Eight free passes to the Seavue Theater in Pacifica are up for grabs to readers of The Post-Times this week.

To win a pass, you need only to spot your name in this week's Business Services Directory on Page 28.

The winning names have been selected from telephone directory listings. Only residents of Daly City, Pacifica, Colma and South San Francisco are eligible to win.

Each reader who spots his name will receive two theatre tickets.

To claim tickets, winners should present identification at the office of The Post at 30 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City.

Pupil Safety Discussed by Committee

The safety of children who will be walking to Cabrillo School next September was discussed at the June meeting of Pacifica's Safety Committee.

Members were told that students will no longer walk along Escalero Avenue and cross Crespi Drive but will cross Escalero and walk along Serena Drive to the new school, which opened its doors for the first time last September.

Members agreed that a stop sign was needed at the new crossing for students' protection.

Robert Bulloch, committee chairman, asked members to familiarize themselves with the crossing area for consideration at next month's committee meeting.

Police Chief Neil Tremaine promised full consideration of the safety factors and added that the question would be resolved before September.

In other action, Bulloch criticized a Greyhound bus stop near the Eureka Shopping Center.

He termed the stop dangerous and said it did not have a required pedestrian crosswalk.

He asked Pacifica police to investigate and report back to the committee.

19 Permits Are Issued

A total of 19 building permits for construction estimated to cost approximately $100,713 was issued last week by the Daly City Building Inspector's office.

Permits for 12 new homes in the Southern Hills development were included in the total.

Other permits were issued to:

Mr. and Mrs. John Bartholomew, 573 Hanover Street, to build new stairs.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chisium, 79 Fairway Drive, to add bedroom, study and bath.

John Bardicos of San Francisco, to repair walls at 898 Hanover Street.

Norman Green, 153 Bellevue Street, to build retaining walls.

Dina Rossi, 143 Castle Street, to add new staircase and wall.

Hajman Bik, 251 San Fernando Way, to add laundry room.

ever party might select the Bay Area for its convention.

A citizens' committee has subsequently raised another $250,000 for the fund.

THE OFFICIAL GOP announcement came almost a year ago: San Francisco would be the site of the 1964 convention; or, more precisely, Daly City would be the site.

Since that time the Convention and Visitors Bureau has been working on a multitude of problems, such as hotel rooms for delegates and press personnel, arrangements and press kits for the news media staffs which will flock to the convention, communications setups (in conjunction with Pacific Telephone and Telegraph) and tickets to the affair.

Working closely with the bureau has been the GOP committee headquartered at the St. Francis. Since February 3 the suite has been humming with activity.

The staff of workers, mostly volunteers, has been coordinating arrangements with the various state delegations, with the press, with communications personnel and with GOP bigwigs who will play an important role at the convention.

Working with the committee has been Congressman Arthur Younger of San Mateo County, who is host congressman for the convention.

A third scene of activity is the San Francisco International Airport, situated in San Mateo County.

The airport will serve as the gateway to the convention, as most delegates, party leaders, VIPs and press personnel will be arriving by airplane.

The three television networks are planning pool coverage at the airport. This is similar to plans for televising the convention itself.

Since most charter flights will be landing at the United Air Lines north passenger station, television coverage will be more or less localized at that spot.

Cameras on a nearby roof will use their zoom lenses to zero in on arriving delegates, party leaders and celebrities.

Spectators, allowed at the United passenger pier, will be kept away from a similar setup near the New South Terminal, where cameras are also being placed.

S.M. Times Top Winner In Contest

The San Mateo Times, parent publication of the Post-Times, is the top winner for Northern California in the state section of the annual Association Press writing and photography contests for California and Nevada.

The Times won two of the three first prizes awarded in the photography contest, plus second and third prizes for news stories in the writing competition.

The four awards were the most won by any Northern California newspaper in the state division. Metropolitan papers are in a separate category in the contests of the Associated Press News Executive Council of California-Nevada.

In the state division photography contest; Norton Pearl won first prize in the features section for his picture, "Unidentified Conventioneer," in The Times.

In the state news story division, Times staffer George Golding was awarded second prize for his story of an all-night hearing on the firing of a teacher.

Virgil Wilson, Times courthouse reporter, took third place with his story on the muddling of a tidal wave alert on Coastside.

Golding's story ran in The Times June 29 last year. It told of the 11-hour hearing of the San Mateo Union High School District, which lasted until 6:45 a.m., to reconfirm the firing of teacher Gordon Lish.

Others went home for a rest, but Golding had to write his story. It cut through the fatigue and fog of a marathon hearing to present the issues clearly.

Wilson's prize winner, published in The Times on October 14 last year, reported a storm of disapproval against state civil defense officials after 5,000 Coastside residents were routed out by a tidal wave warning.

The tidal wave never came, and Wilson wove the anger of county authorities into the details of how the loudspeakers and sirens of the warning system created bedlem on the coast.

Ray Zirkel's "Bearcat in Orbit" picture was a classic example of an alert photographer catching the sudden dama of a runner being tagged out at first.

A player for the San Mateo High School Bearcats jumped in the air as he was tagged and Zirkel's camera froze the action. The picture ran on The Times sports pages last April 15.

Pearl's picture was a tribute to a photographer' imagination. A sign at the Sheraton-Villa Hotel said "Welcome Nudist Convention."

The picture showed the sign and a little nude boy, flight bag in hand, walking in to attend the convention.

CONCRETE pillars near Washington Street and Junipero Serra Freeway has reached the cement-pouring stage in some areas. The pillars will support feeder ramps. In the background is Mary's Help Hospital, under construction for the past year. The two construction projects currently are the biggest building undertakings in Daly City.

SANITATION DISTRICT

Giuffra Wins No. 2 Rating

Larry Giuffra, chief operator of the sewage treatment plant for the North San Mateo County Sanitation District in Daly City, has been awarded a grade two operators license as the result of passing a statewide examination recently.

Only two of 100 Northern California plant operators who took the test achieved the rating, according to District Engineer-Manager Robert Bernicchi.

Giuffra, who started working for the district when the Lake Merced Boulevard plant was built in 1955, has been attending sewage technology school on his own time at night, Bernicchi said, traveling several miles two nights a week.

The new rating puts him only one grade away from the top rating in the field of sewage plant operation.

It is the second high award Giuffra has received since he took over as chief operator for the district four years ago.

The other was the Curry Award for "superior performance in plant operation and maintenance" given annually by the California Water Pollution Control Board.

Guiffra, a native of Genoa, Italy, lives with his wife at 548 San Diego Avenue in Daly City.

He had been a nurseryman before coming to work for the district with no prior knowledge of sewage work.

He now is responsible for the operation of the plant and conducts most of the chemical tests required in the district.

"Larry deserves a lot of credit for the strides he has made," Bernicchi said.

"It is he and the men working under him that have made the district a model in the water pollution control field. The community has something that it can be proud of."

Headmaster Eddie Joost hitting ground balls to prospective infielders. A major league infielder for 17 years, major league manager (Athletics, '54), and one-time darling of Connie Mack. (Mack once said to Eddie, during a close game, "Hit a home run, Eddie," and Eddie did, and Mack said, as Joost hit the bench, "Good boy, Eddie.") Joost is patient.

He comments on almost every move each boy makes, with a quiet, "don't cross the legs," or "stay in front of the ball"; the most dominant remarks.

Every now and then he catches himself telling a boy that he has done more than one thing wrong.

"That's the trouble with us," he comments to listeners-by. "We expect perfection too soon. Baseball is a game in which kids must learn a step at a time; get one thing down, go on to the next mistake.

"Above all, learn by doing, from experience; from the hard knocks. You can't overteach, cram too many things into their heads at once.

"A kid has to play every day, adjust to the situations as they arise. You can tell them something all day, but they'll never learn until they do it."

He goes on spanking the grounders, being sure never to point out a poor technique until it has been dramatized by one of their own errors, telling them things he had been told 30 years before.

MILT AXT, former Poly High baseball and football mentor, whacking fly balls to aspiring outfielders, telling them to throw overhand, get it in on a bounce, yell for it. . . .

Former San Francisco Seal and Pittsburgh Pitcher Con Dempsey by the side of the mound, tutoring young hurlers, patiently humoring the ones who tell him to "watch the curve," or "the slider," and pretending that he sees them break, and then telling them not to throw so many curves so young, and above all, not to throw them hard.

"A curve," he says over and over again, "is not a hard pitch. Let it slip out, like it's falling off a table."

And then taking their minds off the fancy stuff with more basic moves, such as how to stand on the rubber, make a move to first, be ready to field a bunt —all the not so glamorous things which he gently attempts to hint to them are quite often more important than a wide breaking in-drop with a curly-cue backspin.

JOE SPRINZ, former Seal catcher and veteran of 23 years of professional baseball — the storyteller. An anecdote for the kids with every piece of instruction on how to be a catcher.

Joe throws names like Cobb and Dean around, slips in Pard Ballou, or Lefty O'Doul, and the kids love it, even if they never heard of Pard Ballou, or Nick Williams, or Billy Raimondi.

"A batter has three basic weaknesses," he says between a bridge once knocked cockeyed when he attempted to catch a ball dropped from a blimp during San Francisco's pre-war world's fair, "high inside; on the fists, and low and away.

"A catcher," he says blushing modestly, "must be intelligent. He runs the game, like a quarterback. He must know all the hitters, and his own pitchers; guess opposing strategy—everything.

"Don't challenge guys barging into the plate if you don't have to," he says, absent-mindedly rubbing once-sore ribs acquired from challenging runners. "Just go out and tag them and get outa there. Don't wait around for them."

TALKING to adults, Joe can't understand the need for the big glove to handle the knuckle ball.

"I caught not only knucklers but spitters with a regulation glove, and never got any more 'fingers' from them than I did for any other pitch—not as long as I expected them.

"Why, old Pard Ballou used to throw them when he had the notion, without bothering to let me in on it. But I usually got them."

And then he demonstrates.

"You catch them with a limp wrist, not giving a target with the mitt up toward the pitcher, but by holding the mitt down," and at this point the mitt is turned so that its pocket is turned upward, and Sprinz looks like a man about to catch a falling baby from the top story.

"This way," he continues, "even if you flub it, it bounces off against your chest, not under your legs, like the other way."

And then he's back to the kids, who at their age don't have to ponder the mystery of the knuckler.

He's showing them how to peg to second.

"You gotta get the ball away fast and get it there low, on the first base side of the bag, so that the runner is tagging himself out as he slides in. A powerful arm is worthless if you can't get the ball away quickly and throw it accurately.

"Why, Billy Raimondi (former Oakland catcher) couldn't break a pane of glass, but he threw right from the crouch and got it right there on the bag. . . ."

Ah, baseball. It sounds good, whether you've ever heard of Billy Raimondi or not.

C'mon Pard, baby, chuck me that spitter. . . .

No-Hit Contests Highlight Action In D.C. Leagues

Here is a rundown of action last week in baseball leagues, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department.

MIDGET-AMERICAN

The PAL Yankees moved into the top spot in the American Division, knocking off the PAL Redsox. Albert Lieske was the hero for the Yanks with a triple and a homer that accounted for all five Yank runs.

Saturday, the OLM Wolves made it a perfect day by winning the Northern California CYO championship, then coming home for a game with the BYA Rams and winning that also, 7-4.

Don Cvitanich took the mound for the Wolves and gave up only two hits.

Dede Pinelli threw a no-hit shutout against the OLM Broncos as the Yanks won 14-0. Pinelli retired the first 16 batters, striking out 14 and walking one.

The PAL Redsox squeezed by the OLPH Falcons in a 2-1 ball game that is under protest.

MIDGET-NATIONAL

Pitcher Ralph Gage picked up four hits (two of them triples) to help the PAL Indians to a 5-4 victory over the Gaels. The Gaels made a determined effort. Gage struck out 11 Gael batters.

Steve Becker picked up a triple and a homer for the Gaels. Pat Smyser accounted for four RBIs on two hits to help Gage win the ball game.

Bob Payne's Holy Angels Colts finally made the win column. After 4 losses and one tie, the Colts downed the Hunt's Donuts Greys, 6-4. Lou Neve iced the ball game for the Colts with a line drive home run to right field.

MIDGET-FAR WEST

The BYA Renegades downed the Trojans 12-2, scoring 11 runs in two innings off a relief pitcher.

Don Giles, played hero for the Renegades again this week. Starting pitcher, Mel Gonzalez, had trouble finding the plate so Coach Glass pulled Giles off first base after Gonzalez walked the first two Trojan batters. Giles gave up one hit and fanned 10 Trojan batters. He also hit two for four.

JUNIOR

Larry Mannini pitched and batted the Holy Angels Shamrocks to an 8 to 5 win over the Ben Franklin Press team.

Mannini led the Shamrocks' attack with three for three at the plate.

The OLPH Eagles took the OLM Chiefs, 19-5. Steve Gudelz starred for the Eagles with two hits and five stolen bases.

INTERMEDIATE

Abe Shaffer came up with a bang up pitching job that gave the OLPH Hawks a 4-2 win over the OLM Leopards.

Shaffer gave up just two hits. Catcher Ken Kiser picked off three Leopards trying for second base. Shaffer collected two for three to help out the cause.

Junior Rebarber came up with a no-hitter against the Holy Angels Lions. He struck out nine Lions and went two for three at the plate.

A Day at Candlestick

Some 700 Daly City youngsters and 100 parents will see the San Francisco Giants play at Candlestick Park next Wednesday.

Tickets provided by the Giant management will be given out on a first-come, first-served basis by the Daly City Department of Recreation, which is sponsoring the trip to Candlestick.

One adult will be admitted free with each group of seven children. The Recreation Department is arranging car caravans to take ball fans to the game.

Further information may be obtained by calling the department at PL 5-0850.

CSM Picks Grid Coach

Stuart R. Carter, 42-year-old former head football coach at Palomar College in San Diego County, will be assistant football coach at College of San Mateo next season.

He was appointed last week by the CSM board of trustees to replace Richard A. Vermeil, who had resigned.

Carter, hired to work under head Bulldog Coach Cliff Giffin, has served during the current school year as a physical education teacher at Pleasanton High School District in Alameda County. He was at Palomar from 1961-1963.

Before that, he was physical education instructor in Hayward High School District, 1945-46, and Oakland High School District, 1947-1961.

Carter was graduated in 1942 from San Jose State College and received his master's degree there in 1957.

CYO Crown Is Won by Wolves

A fifth grade team from Our Lady of Mercy Church put Daly City on the map last week, at least insofar as Catholic Youth Organization baseball is concerned.

The OLM Wolves, who also play in a Daly City Recreation Department league, downed Holy Names of San Francisco 4-1 Wednesday to become the first Daly City team to win the San Francisco CYO championship.

And then Saturday they beat St. Felecitas of San Leandro 6-3 to win the Northern California CYO championship.

In the first game in San Francisco pitcher Jerry Montague was one pitch away from a no-hitter. In the bottom of the ninth with two men aboard because of walks, a Holy Name batter drilled a shot to deep right field.

A unique three-man relay from fielder Mike Gilligan to second baseman Dan Cvitancih to first baseman Bob Fambrini to catcher John Flynn nailed the second Holy Name runner at home—but the relay was too late to keep them from scoring.

The Wolves scored their four runs in the third with a triple by Tom Mattucchi, a sacrifice fly by John Flynn and a home run with two aboard by Dan Cvitancih.

The battery of Montegue and Flynn and the hitting power of Mattucchi, Frank Kelly, Cvitancih were also the contributing factors in the San Leandro win. All hit doubles, Mattucchi two of them. Montague also contributed to the cause with a double.

Coaches Jay Flynn, Frank Cvitancih and Frank Kelly said the team's defense was "outstanding." Having never played against the "squeeze play" the Wolves turned two of their opponents attempts into double plays.

Bias Hurls No Hitter In Opener

Dave Bias struck out 15 players in pitching a no-hitter Monday for the PAL Tiger All-Stars of Daly City against Laurel Hill in the Michigan division of the San Francisco Recreation League.

It was the first game of the league for the Tigers.

While Bias permitted only one man to reach first base on a walk, he and his teammates were busy driving in runs in a lopsided 16-0 win over the San Francisco team.

Bias banged out three hits in three at-bats. one was a homer with two men aboard. Marty Conn also blasted a home run with two men on.

Altogether, the Tigers, coached by George Pedroni and Jim Wyatt, collected 10 hits.

SEA BOWL By TRISH ARMSTRONG

Westlake Bowl

ONCE AGAIN, a large crowd was on hand last week for the weekly Monday No-Tap Scotch Doubles that again proved profitable for many of the bowlers. Isabel and Vern McPherson won first prize of $13.60, beating out Becky and Bob Cascino who took home $10.20. Third prize of $6.80 went to Earline Hume and Russ Halterman as Norma and Angelo Baldelli won fourth prize of $3.40. This popular feature will be held again Monday at 7:30 at a cost of only $2 per bowler for the three games.

Gus Scheppler, "Pedro Champ," of the Green and Gold reunion, proved to be an all-around athlete as he topped the 805 Scratch League with a 199 game and 554 series.

In the Southgate Mixed Fives, Elaine Reyman led the ladies with 182—488 while Tim Dunn topped the men with a 222 game and a 579 series.

Ginny Van Heeheren played the part of leading lady in the Starliters League as she rolled a 158 game and 455 series.

Shirley Zatcoff won $9 for leading the ladies and Hal Shurgin took home $10 for being tops among the men in the Sunday No-Tap Sweeper. Other cash prize winners were Dick Zatcoff, $6, Rich Balletto, $4 and Tee Rolling, $6, while Isabel McPherson and Ham Hamilton won mystery prizes.

A BIG 622 series on a high game of 213 gave Mac McPherson tops for the week in the Golden Gate Handicap League.

Luvi Leon was a double leader last week, leading the Ladies' 640 Scratch League with a 202—574 and topping the ladies in the Lakeside Mixed Fives with 174—495 as Bill Gregori led the men with a 202 game and 538 series.

Next Saturday is social night at Westlake as a no-tap sweeper-buffet-dance is scheduled with bowling at 7:30, dancing at nine and food being served later in the evening.

Albi Gogna took the honors in the Country Club Handicap with a 193 game and 546 series.

Ed Reinitz was the B'nai B'rith bowler of the week with a 538 series on a high game of 190.

Sea Bowl

FOLLOWING the Bantam School of Bowling last week two leagues were formed. The kids really seemed to enjoy the bowling and came up with some real nice games. For example, Leslie Carr 152, Stella Zahniser 140, Steve Thomas 140, Rick Ortega 146 and Brian Anderson 148.

We are going to run one more "School of Bowling" session for the kids age 13 to 18 tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. This is for beginners only. The session will last about an hour and a half and the instruction is free. For further information call The Sea Bowl.

Big scores in the Junior-Senior were coming up in all directions. Mike Glagrove had a 219—564, Maureen Nicoll 207, Mike Cristofani 206, Mark Lippert 212, and Mary Dallaire 184. The big question of the day! Does daughter Mary, throw a reverse hook like Mom Ruth????

The Kings and Queens league had some nice games last week. It seemed it was a night for two hundreds. Joe Vital posted a 222 for the high game. Larry Hutchinson had high series of 210—586, Dores Coleman, 200, Gayle Harris, 212, Bill Verna, 202, Mark Shepard, 210, and Pete Thomas, 212.

Merchants 973 Scratch bowler Horace Simms had a successful night of bowling with a big 237—601. Dan Clark had a 223—579. 530 Scratch: Bob Wilson 223—804, Midge McMahon 216—800 and Kelly Ellefson 232—798. Bill Funk, rolling on the Surfside 6 League, shot a 233—592.

NEPTUNE'S Daughters, Jean Linney swam to victory with a 217—533. Her first over 200 game! Lois Talbot had a 201—496.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

SUMMER IS here and the rush of summer activities keeps us on the run doesn't it?

We drive from baseball practice, to swimming lessons, to craft classes and somewhere in each day try to fit in the usual daily doings.

With all this coming and going perhaps some ideas for desserts that are light, summery, and easy to make would be helpful. This first recipe for Lemon Mystery Dessert comes from Mrs. Mary Weitzel of San Diego. The mystery about this dessert is how you can get so many delicious servings out of so few ingredients.

LEMON MYSTERY DESSERT

1 pkg. lemon gelatine
1¼ cup hot water
Juice and grated rind of one lemon
1/3 cup sugar
1 large can evaporated milk
Dash of salt

Mix all the above ingredients and place in refrigerator until cold and syrupy. In the meantime pour the evaporated milk in your ice cube tray and allow it to just begin to freeze. (To the point where little fingers of ice appear at the edge of the tray.) Fold in the syrupy gelatine mixture and whip.

Pour into graham cracker crust. This makes two large pies. Or if you wish use a rectangular pan about 10 by 15. Chill and serve topped with whipped cream and sprinkled with English toffy crumbs.

THIS RECIPE for Rum Pie comes from Mrs. Ceil Collin who lives at 1674 Thirty-second Avenue, San Francisco, and is a regular contributor of good food ideas to this column.

RUM PIE

¼ cup cold water
1 Tbsp. gelatine (that's one envelope)
4 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
½ tsp. salt
½ cup hot water
1/3 cup rum or 1 Tbsp. rum flavoring
½ cup sugar

Soften gelatine in cold water. In top of double boiler beat egg yolks slightly and stir in first ½ cup sugar and salt. Gradually stir in hot water. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and mix in softened gelatine, stirring until dissolved.

Cool slightly. Pour in rum and beat well. Chill until mixture starts to congeal. Beat egg whites till stiff and gradually beat in other ½ cup sugar. Fold into chilled rum custard. Spoon into pastry shell or chocolate wafer crumb shell. Chill until firm.

CHOCOLATE WAFER CRUMB SHELL

1½ cups chocolate cookie crumbs
4 Tbsp butter, melted

Rub together and press into greased 9-inch pie pan. Chill while making filling.

EVEN WITH all this rushing about you have to stop sometime and feed your little darlings. Here is a recipe that is easy to make and fills most children's (and adults') requirements for a delicious sandwich, for it uses ground meat and has catsup and mustard in it.

SKILLETBURGERS

1 lb. ground meat
1 medium onion, minced
Salt and pepper
½ cup catsup
¼ cup prepared mustard
Garlic powder to taste
Hamburger buns

Brown beef and chopped onion. Drain excess fat and add seasonings, catsup and mustard. If desired, more of each may be added, according to taste. Simmer about 15 minutes. Spoon on warm buns.

Eagle to Eagle

KEVON COTTRELL, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Cottrell of 59 Castillijo Avenue, is congratulated by his brother, Steve, 16, on becoming an Eagle Scout. Steve attained the highest rank in scouting himself just last year. Kevon is with Boy Scout Troop 85 and Steve, a senior at Westmoor High School, is with Explorer Post 85. Kevon received his Eagle Scout ranking at a Court of Honor at Camp Lilienthal. (Post-Times Photo)

Flower Friends Hold Meeting

The Pacifica Flower Friends Garden Club heard a talk last Wednesday on "Epiphyllum Cacti" by A. L. Dennington of South San Francisco at the Pacifica Moose Lodge in Vallemar.

Hostesses for the night were Nancy Moody and Joan Grover.

Dinner Given For Graduate

A reception and dinner was given for Alfreda Marie Runge, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Runge of 436 Bellevue Avenue, Daly City, after her graduation from San Francisco State College.

She had completed her degree requirements last August and had been a student teacher at Jefferson High School.

EAGLE SCOUT Stanley Aron of Boy Scout Troop 63 of the Lake Merced District presents his mother, Mrs. Donald Aron, with a miniature Eagle Scout pin. The youth was awarded Eagle rank, highest in scouting, at a court of honor held in Fernando Rivera School. Looking on is Dr. Earl S. Herald, troop committeeman, who presented the Eagle Badge to Stanley. The youth's father is chairman of the troop committee. The Arons live at 144 Mirada Drive, Daly City. Troop scoutmaster is Robert Soper and Charles Culley is assistant scoutmaster.

Board Backs Council Tie

The George Washington P-TA executive board has voted to join the Jefferson School District P-TA Council. Mrs. Kevin Donovan, recording secretary of the council, explained the purposes of the group to the board.

The board ratified these committee appointments: Mrs. Virginia Mufts, magazine; Mrs. Ray Rooney, newsletter and Mrs. Alice Bender, sunshine. In other actions, the board approved the P-TA's program for the 1964-65 school year.

B'nai B'rith Plan Meeting

The Greater San Francisco Council of B'nai B'rith Women will meet next Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at San Francisco, according to council president Mrs. Jacob Chapman.

CSM Summer Classes Will Begin This Week

Approximately 5,500 students —1,000 more than last year— are expected to attend College of San Mateo's 1964 summer session, which opened this week at College Heights campus.

Both day and evening classes will be offered, according to Samuel W. Elkins, summer session co-ordinator.

Adults, as well as younger persons (over 18) and just-graduated high school youths, may attend. No registration fees will be charged except for out-of-state enrollents.

Instruction will be given in a wide variety of subjects in the fields of business, creative arts, mathematics, physical education, science and social science, as well as in the technical-vocational division.

Most day classes will run for six weeks, Elkins said, and most evening classes, eight weeks.

Elkins anticipates that slightly more than half the total enrollment will be in the evening classes.

Copies of a brochure giving complete information on summer session are available at public libraries throughout San Mateo County, or may be obtained from Elkins' administration building office on the campus.

"OLIVER," a musical rendition of Charles Dickens' story of "Oliver Twist" was performed before students and parents of Crocker School. Principals of the performance, left to right, Florante Saboto as Oliver Twist, Barney Jurant as Fagin, and Steve Garcia as Artful Dodger, belt out a song entitled "You're One of Us." Other performers in the play were Mike Boyd, Peggy Guttieres, Chiquita Danis, John Balectrieri, Chuck Robinson and Robert Ames. (Post-Times Photo)

S.F.S. Thespians Plan 2 Dramas

Two very different but equally serious plays will be presented this summer at San Francisco State College.

The first production will be "Five Finger Exercise," by Peter Shaffer. Performances will be given in the Main Theatre at 8:30 p.m. July 9-11.

The second will be "John Brown's Body." It won the Pulitzer Prize for author Stephen Vincent Benet. The play will be presented in Main Theater at 8:30 p.m. July 23-25.

"Five Finger Exercise" will be directed by Dale Mackley. "John Brown's Body" will be staged by Tom Tyrrell.

CDA Unit to Hold Meeting

Court Salesiana 1005, Catholic Daughters of America, will install officers at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow at the Sons of Italy Hall at 5051 Mission Street, San Francisco.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

WHILE SOME clubs and organizations tend to slow down during the vacation session, several local groups herald the advent of summer by shifting into an accelerated program with emphasis on trips and short excursions. A prime example of such an approach to summer planning is the perennially thriving Fifty Plus Club of Pacifica.

In July the members, enough of them to fill two chartered buses at any rate, will journey to Marin to tour the San Rafael City Hall, Jack London Park and Temelec.

According to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, president, the members will order T-bone or swordfish steaks to be served with green salad, beans, wine, bread and cheese when the buses arrive at Temelec. Plans for the trip, scheduled for July 31, include keeping the cost down to $2.40 each plus the price of the steaks, Mrs. Calhan said. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Calhan at 355-2816.

While the July trip promises to be a pleasant one. it is in no way exceptional in light of the club's busy summer agenda. In August an overnight trip to the Hearst Castle is scheduled and in September the group will week-end at a resort in Lake County, Mrs. Calhan

THE FIFTY-PLUS CLUB began its summer program earlier this month with a weekend at Yosemite. Members left Pacifica on a recent Friday morning and trekked to Merced in chartered buses and from there continued into Yosemite Valley aboard the Camp Curry bus.

Saturday morning club members began a day of sightseeing aboard a glass top bus which visited the Wanona Tunnel, the Mariposa Big Trees and Glacier Point before the dinner hour. The group returned to Pacifica late Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Calhan said.

NOT TO be outdone by their compatriots to the south, the Westlake Senior Citizens held their annual picnic outing in Junipero Serra Park last Wednesday.

A committee, appointed by club president Mrs. Beatrice Batz, baked hams, cakes and all the assorted goodies which customarily accompany picnic luncheons, and spread sumptious tables for the members.

The Westlake Club will not meet today but the regular schedule of Wednesday socials will resume next week.

THE LASSES of Junior Girl Scout Troop 234 feted their fathers at a Father-Daughter dinner in a slightly premature observance of Father's Day, according to troop leader Mrs. Margie Edwards.

The troop members spent an entire day in San Bruno's Junipero Serra Park, hiking, playing games and preparing for the arrival of the fathers at 5 p.m.

The spaghetti dinner for the evening was prepared by Mrs. Gloria Goggiano and Mrs. Betty Larsen, Mrs. Barbara Gross and Mrs. Edwards. Members of the troop also assisted with the dinner preparation, Mrs. Edwards said.

Plans for the troop in the fall include the installation of Mrs. Shirley Leventhal as troop leader. Mrs. Leventhal will be assisted by Mrs. Ruth Hill and Mrs. Gross.

MR. AND MRS. WILLARD WAGNER have begun the summer by taking two trips. The first, two weeks ago, was a tour of Reno and Sparks, Nevada, as they celebrated their forty-ninth wedding anniversary.

This past weekend the energetic couple took on the task of babysitting with three of their young grandchildren in Modesto while their daughter and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Battle, attend the physicians' conference being held in San Francisco.

STILL floating on a cloud is Mrs. Charles Mazzola of Westlake.

The Mazzolas had planned an inactive summer until about a month ago when Mazzola surprised his family with the offer of a two weeks' camping trip in the Lake Louise and Banff area of Canada.

MRS. OLIVER H. KUPAU of Hawaii is currently the house guest of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schalz of Westlake.

Mrs. Kupau has just returned from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, where she was present at the graduation of her son, Captain Richard A. Kupau, from the Army's School of Command and Staff School. Following the graduation Kupau received his commission as a major and was assigned to a post in Germany.

Mrs. Kupau will sail tomorrow aboard the S.S. Monterey on the start of a twomonths' trip around the world.

MRS. GEORGE BILL of St. Francis Heights has been elected recording secretary of the Golden Gate Kindergarten Association Auxiliary, according to publicity chairman Mrs. Murray H. Freedman.

Mrs. Bill, who expects her third child in the very near future, will serve with Mrs. William Cereske, auxiliary president; Mrs. Carl Riesen, vice president; Mrs. George McConnell, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Charles Cooper, unit treasurer.

The newly selected officers served as hostesses at the group's annual play day which was held at the Meadow Club in Marin on June 10. Co-chairmen for the party were Mrs. Owen Kellog and Mrs. Richard Spawn. The afternoon featured swimming, a delightful luncheon, and games.

IF YOU haven't had a chance to see the July issue of Sunset Magazine, make it a point to do so for Pacifica's Annual Fuchsia and Art Fiesta is given excellent coverage.

This year the event will be held in the Sanchez Adobe on August 22 and 23 and will feature, not only art and flowers, but music, dancing and a tiny Fiesta Queen as well, according to Chairman Sherri Thomas.

Innovations this year will include the donation of a fuchsia garden to the County Park and Recreation Department for the landscaping of the Adobe's grounds by the local Fuchsia Society and the donation of a painting of the Sanchez Adobe by the Pacifica Artist's Guild.

Members of the Artist's group are painting the adobe and their works will be studied by the Park and Recreation Commission in Redwood City. A winning canvas will be selected for permanent display in the Sanchez adobe. A special gallery will be established during the Fiesta for the exhibition of all the entries in the competition and all but the winning painting will be offered for sale at that time, Mrs. Thomas said.

He was a member of Operating Engineers' Union, San Mateo.

Funeral services were held on Friday at 1 p.m. from Nauman & Lincoln Chapel, with interment in Woodlawn Memorial Park.

ADOLF ARNDT

Adolf Theodore Arndt, 81, 630 Pine Terrace, South San Francisco, died last week at Peninsula Hospital after a long illness.

A native of Eichfier, Germany he had lived here 47 years, and operated Arndt's Department Store on Grand Avenue from 1917 until he retired in 1945.

He was a member of the Francis Drake Masonic Lodge, the Burlingame Body of Scottish Rite, Islam Temple Shrine, and Order of Eastern Star.

Funeral services were held Thursday from Nauman & Lincoln Chapel, thence to the chapel at Portals of Eternity cemetery where Cantor Martin Feldman of Temple Sherith Israel, San Francisco, officiated. There was also Masonic services under auspices of Sir Francis Drake Lodge.

Bids Sought By Bayshore

The Bayshore School District board of trustees has called for bids on a contract covering the re-paving of the playground of Bayshore School.

Cost of the work is expected to be between $8,000 and $9,000.

The contract also would cover drainage work at Garnet Robertson School.

In other action, the board approved its annual contract with the Daly City Recreation Department. The district will pay Daly City $2,650 for recreational services and programs the department will provide in the coming year.

P.O. AND THE GOP

They'll Have to Walk

When a Republican Convention delegate buys a stamp in a temporary post office to be set up in the Cow Palace in July, he may have to walk a bit to find a mail box to post his letter or card if he doesn't mail it in the temporary facility.

Daly City Postmaster Vincent Murphy told the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce last week he has no intention of using present Daly City mail boxes or his personnel to accommodate the conventioneers.

Now these may sound like the words of a Democrat, but they're not. Murphy is a registered Republican.

His reluctance stems from the fact that the temporary post office with its anticipated volume of revenue will be manned by and credited to the San Francisco postmaster.

Although the Bayshore area in which the Cow Palace is located is under Murphy's jurisdiction, the regional postal director authorized the San Francisco postmaster to set up and operate the temporary postal facility.

Murphy pointed out that that the postal system, in general, is "on an economy kick" and he has been operating the Daly City post office without a full complement of personnel.

He said that if he had been assigned the Cow Palace, he would have installed additional mail boxes in the area if postal sales justified the expense of doing so.

"If San Francisco is going to get the money," Murphy said, "they'll have to do the work."

Chamber member Don Monson said it appeared that Murphy had been "run over roughshod" and the chamber should make its objections known to the proper authorities.

Concerning the extension of San Francisco bus lines into Daly City, City Manager Edward Frank reported that some suggested routes had been turned over to San Francisco transportation engineers for study.

Joseph Lewkowitz said that perhaps the existing Northgate Transit Lines should be given a helping hand "instead of trying to run them out of business."

He pointed out that five different concerns had tried to make the bus lines go before Northgate came into the city.

"We've been lucky to have them (the Northgate drivers)", Lewkowitz said. 'We're getting a bus line tax free now. If San Francisco comes in, we may have to pay for it."

Frank replied that the city is only asking for a cost survey.

In other business, members referred a proposal to combine board of directors meetings with the regular membership meetings to the directors for study.

The regular membership won't meet again until September 17 when Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, will be the guest speaker.

Daly City Police Break Up $1,000-a-Day Bookmaking

Daly City detectives, using sledgehammers, Thursday broke into a basement apartment and arrested a 50-yearold man on charges of bookmaking.

Seized was Max Moore of 54 Lake Forest Drive who said he was a caddie.

Lt. John Walsh said the bookmaking operation had been going on for about two weeks and that it was doing about $1,000 per day in business.

He said a quantity of betting slips and other bookmaking material was seized. The apartment ws equipped with a telephone and extension.

Walsh said detectives broke down the bolted door to the apartment when Moore refused to open it at their request.

Participating in the raid in addition to Walsh were Capt. Roy Beecher and Detectives Lester Bastedo and Thomas Culley.

Top Student Honors

HOLDING award medallions are four North County students who were honored by local savings and loan associations and the California Savings and Loan League at a scholarship banquet in San Mateo. From left are Sherry Rosen of Westmoor, sponsored by Ray Broughton, Daly City manager of Home Mutual Savings; Jennifer Jacobsen of Jefferson; Mark Avelar of El Camino and Jeffrey Jones of South San Francisco. Each received $100 and the "outstanding student" award medallion. The awards were started seven years ago to encourage students to achieve high scholastic standing and to participate in extra curricular activities.

Man Held on Drug Charge

A 20-year-old Daly City man was charged with possession of dangerous drugs and burglary Thursday in connection with the theft of a bottle of Desbutal tablets from Walgreen's Drug Store in the Westlake Shopping Center.

Arrested was Kenneth G. Ellison of 258 St. Catherine Drive.

John Jeong of 286 Edgewood Drive, Pacifica, an employe, told investigators that Ellison had asked him to check on medicine that was located at the rear of the store.

While he was doing so, Jeong said, he heard footsteps, turned around and saw Ellison with the bottle of Desbutal tablets that had been on a shelf nearby.

Jeong and an another employe, Ron Camara of 343B Miller Avenue, South San Francisco, held the suspect until police arrived.

Desbutal is classified as a dangerous drug, police said.

Studies in Russian Set

Robert Parr of Daly City, a teacher at South San Francisco High School, has been chosen to participate in a summer institute for secondary school teachers of Russian at Northwestern Universiy in Evanston, Ill.

He will receive postgraduate training in applied linquistics, culture, educational electronics, language and methods in the seven-week program.

The institute will be sponsored by Northwestern in co-operation with the United States Office of Education.

TAMPERING REPORTED

The Geneva Club at 2601 Geneva Avenue, Daly City, reported to police over the weekend that someone had tampered with the lock to the club's front door.

Supervisors Apologize to D.C. Officials

A letter of "explanation and apology" to Daly City in the mixup over the traffic signals outside the Cow Palace was authorized Wednesday by the County Board of Supervisors.

It all started when Supervisor T. Louis Chess accused Daly City of "procrastinating" and urged county officals to take the lead and see that the signals were installed.

Daly City officials let out a roar when they read the story in The San Mateo Times, The Post's parent newspaper.

"For the uninformed members of the board who appear to like to throw barbs without justification," Daly City Mayor Micheal R. DeBernardi wrote the supervisors, "let me explain here what could have been learned by a telephone call to the city of Daly City."

The mayor said plans and specifications for signals had been authorized more than a month previously and actual work, which is to cost about $18,500, started three days after Chess had spoken.

"If the Board of Supervisors receives complaints concerning the Cow Palace," DeBernardi wrote, "they should properly refer them to the City of Daly City—not to the San Mateo Times."

New Arrests Seen in Area Siding Probe

Additional arrests in the burgeoning aluminum siding "suede shoe" investigation will be made, it was indicated last week.

According to reliable reports, several indictments for fraud were voted early Friday by the County Grand Jury.

It is expected that the indictments will be given to Superior Court Judge Edmund Scott at that time so that arrest warrants can be issued by him. It is likely that the identity of the suspects will not be revealed until they are in custody.

Sorenson said he called 15 witnesses, including 12 homeowners, before the jury in a five-hour hearing that lasted until 1 a.m. Friday. They talked about aluminum siding, the district attorney said.

The fact that a statewide investigation into alleged home improvement swindles was under way was disclosed last month with the arrest in South San Francisco of Ed Kowsky, an East Bay aluminum siding salesman.

Sorenson's chief inspector, A. L. Lamport, who is heading up the investigation in San Mateo County, said the arrest of Kowsky caused other salesmen to "run for cover."

Three telephone "boiler rooms," from where solicitations were made, closed down within days after the arrest.

It was indicated that even with the indictments returned and warrants issued, it might be difficult to locate some of the suspects.

Sorenson said typically the "suede shoe" salesmen attempt to smooth talk homeowners into signing mortgages on their homes, without realizing it, to pay exorbitant costs for installation of aluminum siding.

D.C. Uses Inexpensive Ounce of Prevention

The city of Daly City is using an inexpensive ounce of prevention on streets in the Westlake section to avoid an expensive pound of cure, according to City Engineer William Chapman.

City construction crews are putting a substance called slurry seal on streets in an attempt to improve road appearance and riding qualities.

Chapman said the process is not resurfacing but an eighth-inch protective coating over brittle asphalt pavement to extend pavement life.

The cost of the slurry seal process is one-seventh the cost of asphalt resurfacing.

Chapman noted that if the method had been used in prior years in maintaining streets in the older section of the city, the city would have saved a considerable amount of money in resurfacing.

Eight New Employes Are Added by S.S.F. District

Faced with a constantly growing city, South San Francisco school trustees responded by adding eight new employes for next year, and adopting their preliminary budget of $6,753,037 as previously announced.

They also scheduled an election for September 15, to seek voter approval of a $2,945,000 bond issue.

The money will buy four new school sites in the Monte Verde and Westborough areas, build two schools and add three all-purpose rooms, and improve three other schools.

After hiring 10 teachers to replace others who are leaving, and approving two resignations and three leaves of absence, trustees scheduled employment for the new employes.

To be hired are three remedial reading teachers, a psychologist, two elementary consultants, a nurse, and an instrumental music teacher.

Trustees approved a policy for allotting pay on the basis of experience, with new employes to get salary credit for each year of experience up to five years.

Superintendent Dr. Paul Nielsen estimated this would cost the district an additional $38,000 in salaries the first year, but commented that it would help attract experienced teachers.

June 25 was set as the date for opening bids on furniture and equipment for Monte Verde School.

Bids are also being sought on a walk-in van truck, and for a 91-passenger diesel school bus to replace an 11-year-old model now in service.

Teen Swim Night Set

Summer swimming for junior teen club members, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, gets under way at 7 tomorrow night at Jefferson High School.

To participate, members need only present their teen club cards and pay a 30-cent admission fee.

BETTER BUSINESS

Referral Scheme Method Detailed

By LORENE BEASELEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

"WOULD YOU like to own a new car? All you need to do is give me the names of six prospective buyers, a friend, relative or neighbor and I will give you $100 for each name.

"Then come in and collect an additional $50 bonus for every name they, in turn, give to me. In no time your bonuses will pay for the car of your choice."

This something for nothing scheme, known as referral selling, was recently brought to the attention of the Better Business Bureau in a deal where a promoter approached his prospective customer with a long dissertation on the fantastic amount of money spent on advertising in the United States.

He explained to the prospect that a poll of automobile manufacturers revealed 45 per cent of their sales were made on the strength of word-of-mouth recommendation.

The manufacturers had decided, he continued, that on the strength of this poll, it would be worth their while to pay a sum of money to an individual to advertise a particular car.

The salesman went on to explain to the man that his company would put him in a new car if he would, in turn, set up appointments for six of his friends who might be interested in buying a car.

For every friend the prospect sent, he would get $100 from the company's word of mouth advertising campaign.

Moreover, an additional $50 was offered for everyone who signed up as a result of interviews set up by the original six friends.

THIS REFERRAL scheme, which preys on the gullibility of individuals and can be put over with such conviction that otherwise prudent people are disarmed, successfully set up a rosy picture of sums of $100 and $50 pouring into the prospect's coffers.

From this point on, he was sold. He picked out the car of his choice. Of course, there was a contract to sign, which required him to pay for the car.

The remorseful customer, who complained to the Better Business Bureau, soon found he was not getting enough "referral payments" to meet even a small portion of his obligation.

He also found out that he was obligated to pay for a car he really did not want or need. He had yet to see a "bonus."

Thre is nothing new in this plan. Hundreds of people have been legally bound to purchase water softeners, garbage disposals, home siding contracts, sewing machines, etc.

This is an example of the endless chain referral selling and it is endless.

CONSIDER a chain which starts off with one person who gets six others to participate, and each of the six gets six more, and so on. Here is how it would progress:

216
1,296
7,296
46,656
279,939
1,679,616
10,077,696

The earmarks of the "referral scheme" are readily identifiable.

1. A friend or neighbor urges you to agree to an appointment to learn how you can get something for nothing.

2. At the appointed interview the salesman explains how you can participate in an "advertising campaign."

3. He points out that through his person-to-person advertising plan the car, water softener, or what have you, will be "free" to you.

4. He tells you that it's easy to interest a few of your friends or neighbors in getting the same article without paying for it.

5. He implies that you will probably make money over and above the actual price of his item.

6. He wants you to rush into the deal right now—tonight.

7. He asks you to sign all the usual sales agreements—just like any purchaser.

The Better Business Bureau warns, however, investigate before you invest.

Zoning Law Meets Set

The Daly City Planning Commission has decided to hold special hearings on a new basic zoning ordinance to prevent certain types of construction the members feel would be "detrimental" to the community.

Special meetings will be held on the first, third and fifth Mondays of each month at 7 p.m. in the City Council chambers at 75 Wellington Avenue.

City Engineer William Chapman has urged residents to attend.

Pacifica Council Actions

The Pacifica City Council has taken these actions in addition to those previously reported:

Approved plans of Raymond Ferraris to construct a 30-unit apartment building on Lakeside Avenue between Clarendon Road and the Coast Highway.

Turned down, in effect, approval of architectural plans of a remodeled store and residential building at the intersection of the Coast Highway and Reina del Mar by taking no action after City Attorney Conrad Reisch ruled the council has no authority to act on appeals from planning commission decisions in turning down architectural plans.

Agreed to study an extensive planning program for 1964-65 when it begins budget study sessions.

Approved plans for a $400,000 assessment district to improve Crespi Drive and the Rockaway Frontage Road. A contract for the work, for which six bids have been received will be awardd tonight.

Agreed to take a series of interim measures to improve parking during freeway construction on Francisco Drive after merchants complaind shoppers are unable to park near their stores.

Took no action on complaints of noise from bakery and ice cream trucks other than to instruct the police department to enforce an existing anti-noise ordinance.

No Reports To Be Given

The Jefferson Union High School District's newlyformed Committee on Equalization of Teacher Responsibilities has voted to keep matters under discussion by the group confidential until final conclusions and proposals are prepared.

According to the committee chairman, Assistant District Superintendent Fred O. Goodell, matters under discussion at meetings may be studied and restudied many times before any final decisions are reached.

Therefore, no progress reports, which might create confusion, will be released, he said.

Committee members met again this week in an effort to hammer out a suggested formula for the equalization of teacher responsibilities.

WINDOWS BROKEN

Shirley Debtorchio of 62 Palisades Drive, Daly City, reported to police over the weekend that vandals had broken windows in his residence.

New Budget Is Mulled by Coast Council

Pacifica city councilmen held the first in a series of study sessions Wednesday on a proposed budget of $1,581,949 for the coming year that, if adopted as is, would mean a 5½-cent increase in the city's existing $1.92 tax rate.

Although employes had originally asked salary increases ranging from 5 to 10 per cent, the council approved in principle a personnel advisory committee recommendation that a 3½ per cent across the board increase be granted.

In addition to the tax increase the budget submitted by City Manager Karl A. Baldwin to the council proposes an annual $15 sewer service charge.

Baldwin noted that Pacifica is the only city in the county other than San Mateo that does not have such a charge.

The tentative budget calls for four additional patrolmen in the police department and creating of the post of deputy chief and an additional sergeant.

The fire department budget calls for six new firemen and the appointment of an assistant fire chief.

The budget provides for the first installment on the purchase of a new snorkel truck and construction of a new branch fire station in the Fairmont area in the northern part of the city.

The city's budget during the past fiscal year was $1,288,098.

The first two of a series of additional budget meets was set by the council.

Councilmen will meet tomorrow with Chamber of Commerce representatives and on July 5 to review a proposed planning budget.

Broadmoor To Go Ahead With Center

Plans to build a community center in Broadmoor slipped into high gear last week following a meeting of the Broadmoor Property Owners Association at the Benjamin Franklin School.

Members of the organization met to discuss the general design, the financial status, and proposed uses of the center. President Al Ickler and other board members brought the property owners up to date on what has been done on the project.

The architect contracted to do the design should have working plans ready within two weeks, Ickler estimated.

In other action Fred Ruhland, last year's board president, was named chairman of the tract restrictions committee. John McCloskey was named to head the trees beautification and welcoming committee and Mrs. William St. Clair was put in charge of the publicity committee.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, July 9, 8 p.m. at the Benjamin Franklin School.

Coast C of C Names Gladieux

Basil Gladieux, manager of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce, has been elected secretary and treasurer of the Cabrillo Coastside Chamber of Commerce.

M. J. Bettencourt of Half Moon Bay was named president.

Ready for Business

THE NEWEST TENANT of the St. Francis Square Shopping Center is Little Pigs of America. The eating establishment, featuring a unique hickory barbecue process on sandwiches and dinners, will hold a grand opening today. Free drawings for a host of dinners and sandwiches will be held each evening at 7 p.m. Winners need not be present to win but must claim their prize within 48 hours. Grand prizes will be drawn Friday night. Above is George Campbell, manager of the store, and Manuel Icart, his assistant. (Post-Times Photo)

Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association NEWSLETTER to WESTLAKE HOMEOWNERS

BOARD OF DIRECTORS REPORT

Two important actions were taken by the Board of Directors of W.S.I.A. at a recent meeting.

Because of many factors involved, this year there will be no Hallowe'en Party.

The second decision related to the annual Christmas Decorations Contest.

This year there will be one prize awarded to each unit in Westlake and one over-all grand prize.

Rules will be very similar to last year's contest with one main exception—only paid-up members will be able to participate.

Further details will be published in a future issue of "The Westlaker."

W.S.I.A. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Harry Bosbery, President
Lennart R. Johnson, Vice-President
Lewis J. McDermott, Jr., Secretary
Dwight R. Woodside, Treasurer
Paul H. Salsgiver, Assistant Secretary
Robert B. Bridges, Assistant Treasurer
Ben Waxman, Sergeant-at-Arms

ARE YOUR ASSESSMENTS PAID UP TO DATE???

All homeowners in Westlake are subject to payment of annual assessments to the Association as provided in the Bylaws which also quote in part:

ARTICLE VI—Section 3: "Any charges or assessments more than thirty days in arrears may be collected by an appropriate action at law, at any time after the same become due and payable; and in any action to collect same, in the event of recovery, the plaintiff shall be entitled to recover all costs and expenses, including a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the court."

If you are delinquent, we urge you to pay your assessments as soon as possible.

BOY SCOUT TROOP NO. 248

Sponsored by the Westlake Improvement Association, now has a membership of 63 boys.

These young men are doing a fine job in establishing themselves as good citizens and with not too much recognition. Recently this troop, out of the entire Lake Merced Scouting District, won three out of five trophies given for various competitive activities.

This same troop is also on the conservation program of the City of Daly City with their present project—Thornton Beach. On Saturday, June 27th, the boys will make their third trip to the Beach for the purpose of cleaning up weeds and debris and planting ice-plant—and they work!

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors of W.S.I.A. it was decided to present the troop with eighteen badly needed camp-out tents as a token of appreciation for the efforts put forth by these fine young people.

TRIPS AND TOURS

Certain members of the Association have suggested that the W.S.I.A. act as the sponsoring organization on behalf of its membership for the purpose of obtaining special group rates for tours to various parts of the world.

The parties interested have advised that members in good standing of W.S.I.A. would be entitled to special discount rates depending on the number of members and families taking the respective tours.

The Board of Directors would like to have comments and/or suggestions from the membership in general, with reference to whether or not they would be interested in establishing a committee to make a further study of this project.

The Board of Directors does not feel the W.S.I.A. should assume any financial responsibility whatsoever and therefore, any action that is taken by the committee would be with this express understanding and this request for information should not be interpreted as a committment on the part of W.S.I.A. to sponsor any trip or trips.

Persons interested in acting on a committee are requested to supply their names to the secretary of the Association at 15 Southgate Avenue.

YOUR PALM TREE WILL BE PRUNED!

Pruning has been somewhat delayed this year due to the recent death of Mario Mariani's wife, Marie.

The well-liked Association gardener's many friends in Westlake deeply sympathize with Mario in his great loss.

Please be patient if your tree has not yet been taken care of — late pruning of the blossoms will not hurt the tree.

With an assistant working with him, it is expected that Mario will complete the pruning work within a month.

HOMEOWNERS' TIPS

Remember to tie all bundles of newspapers placed outside on your regular garbage collection day. Papers left loose outside can be blown throughout the neighborhood, creating a nuisance and detracting from the beauty of our properties.

VACATION TIME IS HERE!

Be a good neighbor by teaching your children to respect other people's property!

NO JULY MEETINGS

Due to vacations, there will be no meeting of the Board of Directors or the Architectural Committee during July.

The next meeting of the Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association will be held August 3 at 8 P.M. at 15 Southgate Avenue.

COMMENT

A Welcome for James K. Carr

THE OCCASION of the appointment of Undersecretary of the Interior James K. Carr as general manager of San Francisco's far-flung public utilities system is one for congratulations all around. The only loser is the Department of the Interior where President Johnson has lauded Carr for "superior service" and accepted his resignation with regret.

His appointment should be of particular interest to Daly City residents who are seeking an extension of San Francisco's publicly owned bus lines (Muni) to Daly City.

As the head of San Francisco's publicly owned enterprises, he will have the final word on whether or not Muni comes to San Mateo County's second largest city.

The city and county of San Francisco deserve congratulations, as does Mayor John Shelley, for the choice of a man with top experience in public service, an advocate of the proper conservation and use of natural resources, and an extremely able administrator.

MR. CARR is to be congratulated on taking over a post that will use his capabilities and knowledge to the fullest degree—and will bring him home to his own area. He is to be congratulated also upon the courage that it must have taken to leave a high federal position and a promising future in the national scene.

San Mateo County, in which many of the holdings of the San Francisco Public Utilities Department are located, is to be congratulated on having a man of Carr's broad vision, and ability to think in the large scale, as the new manager over those holdings.

There is an excellent chance that he will be able to resolve, amicably, the areas of conflict that have often arisen between the interests of San Francisco and San Mateo County.

He will have the opportunity and the perspicacity to see what has so often been obscured, namely, the mutuality of interests that concern the people, rather than the governments, of the two counties.

His good offices are anticipated by San Mateo County as well as by San Francisco and this county welcomes him and wishes him great accomplishment in his new position.

Spreading the D.C. Name

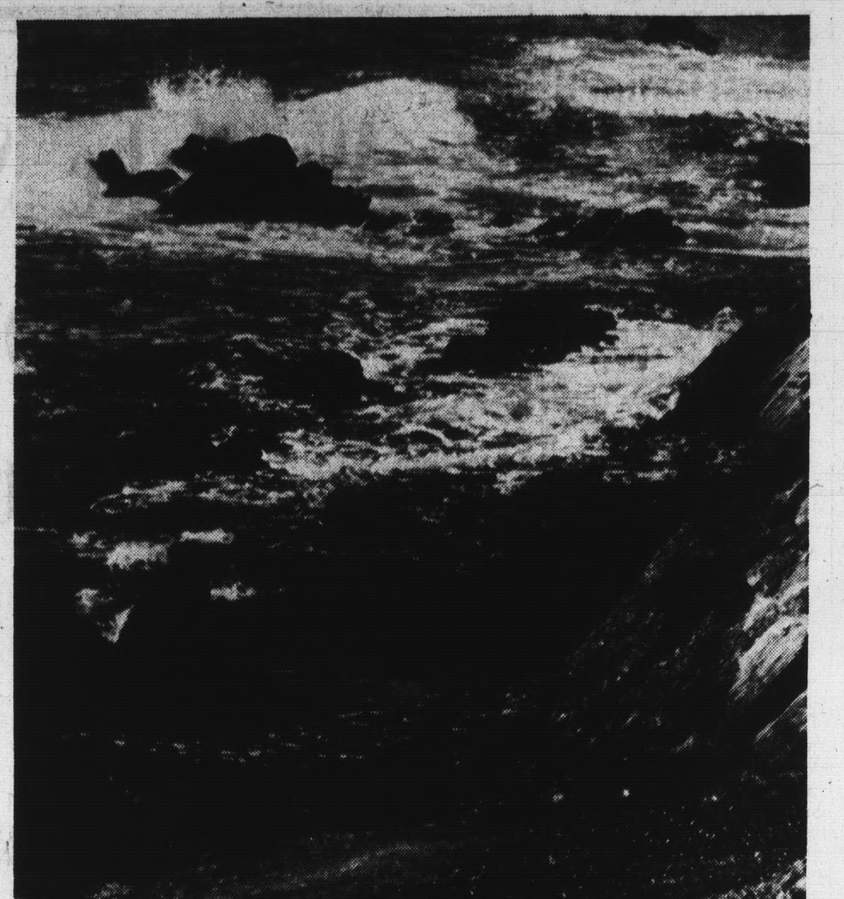
There shouldn't be any doubt in the minds of delegates to the upcoming Republican National Convention when they gather in the Cow Palace next month that the terra firma around them is Daly City.

Two reminders should do the trick. One is highly visual—a bright, 40-foot banner erected Saturday across Geneva Avenue in front of the Cow Palace, welcoming the convention to Daly City.

The other is an attractively printed copy of a Daly City resolution, officially welcoming the Republican delegates.

We applaud these manifestations of civic pride. They cannot help but spread the name of Daly City right across the land when delegates return to their homes in all 50 states.

The Restless Pacific



RUGGED NATURE of some of San Mateo County's Pacific shoreline is seen in this photo of Pebble Beach, situated about a quarter mile south of the intersection of the Coast Highway and Pescadero Road. The county also boasts a number of sandy beaches. This is another in a series of pictures, depicting parks and historical areas within a day's driving time of North County points.

North County Notebook

'Like Wine Put Into a Bottle'

Ron Bates

VERY SOON a heavy ball will smash against a white wood frame building at 67 Los Banos Avenue sending the building to the ground.

Each thud of that heavy ball against the building will be felt in the hearts of several bystanders who will come to view the demolition.

For here in this small, white building they gathered once a week to worship God. Here is where they met to celebrate the birth of a child or to mourn the death of a friend. Here is where they saw their children, or perhaps themselves, become fullfledged members of the Jewish religion through the Bar Mitzvah ceremony.

No more will the melodic chants of the rabbi and cantor be heard in this temple of worship for Congregation B'nai Israel.

The soothing tones of their voices will be replaced by the roar of car engines as motorists hurry to or from work on the new thoroughfare being designed to facilitate traffic in Daly City between the new Junipero Serra Freeway and Mission Street.

It is an old story that is being repeated throughout our modern traffic-conscious nation today. Tradition and history must make way for progress.

But this is only part of the story.

THE STORY of B'nai Israel's plight involves more than just members of the congregation and more than just the closing of a temple. It provides a heartwarming anecdote, I believe, for the much larger story of brotherhood that is being written in our nation today.

B'nai Israel was born, as was Daly City, out of the ashes of San Francisco's 1906 earthquake. It became at that time the only Jewish place of worship in San Mateo County.

Last year, after careful consideration by the city, the route of the Knowles-Los Banos Avenue Freeway feeder was decided upon. In the path was B'nai Israel's temple.

The expected wave of disappointment swept over B'nai Israel members—a feeling that the past was going to be separated from them.

The initial shock wore off, however, and leaders of the congregation began to plan for the future. No one, however, anticipated the problems that were to come.

CITY OFFICIALS, under Mayor Joseph Verducci, went out of their way to help the soon-to-be-displaced congregation find a new place to worship. The congregation was paid the highest possible price for the land on which its old temple stood.

Verducci wrote and phoned members of the county planning commission to ask that the congregation be extended all cooperation possible.

A use permit to build a temple breezed through the commission with no problem and it was sent to the board of supervisors with a recommendation for approval.

When it reached the board, however, it was suddenly held up.

A ruling had been laid down specifying lot size requirements for churches. B'nai Israel did not meet these requirements and the planners had approved a variance.

The supervisors, however, disagreed with the planners. And after a few heated words, a misunderstanding and objections voiced by a landowner, the permit was denied almost before anyone realized it.

ON THE BASIS of the earlier approval by the planning commission, the congregation had purchased land on Annie Street for the new temple. But the supervisors had made their decision and to backpedal they would lose face at that time.

The outpouring of help from Daly City after the supervisors' action was a thing to behold.

The city council appointed a special committee, composed of Councilman Al Polonsky and Frank Pacelli and City Attorney Paul Hupf, to aid the congregation.

Hupf and lawyer Sidney Berlin, a representative of the United Synagogues and Board of Rabbis, took over the legal fight. They worked without fee.

The Daly City Ministerial Association, under the leadership of Broadmoor Presbyterian Church pastor Herbert Tweedie and Lutheran Church pastor Kenneth Hansen, Westlake, also went to work.

The association and the pastors of all Daly City churches wrote letters to the county officials in behalf of B'nai Israel.

The ministers circulated petitions among their own congregations and thousands signed.

FINALLY, the supervisors relented. New plans were submitted and the permit was granted.

The Los Banos temple was closed recently—an action that almost left the congregation without a place to worship until the new temple is finished But here again, the spirit of brotherhood has prevailed.

The city is letting the congregation use the council chambers for its Friday night Sabbath services and the War Memorial Community Center is being reserved for the congregation's High Holy Day services later this year.

Rabbi Solomon Shore, who came to Daly City eight years ago, said he was "overwhelmed with this outpouring of kindness" by the people.

"They will not be sorry," the rabbi said. "It is like wine put into a bottle and then fortified. Someday it will give great pleasure."

The Marquee

The Sparks Of Loyalty

Barbara Bladen

THE HULLABALOO over the proposed two professional theatres that will make their stand on Peninsula soil in the fall has kindled the spark of loyalty and homing instinct among the local little theatre enthusiasts. We wondered how big a threat the concrete tents were considered by the hard core of regular patrons. The directors with whom we discussed the fearsome intrusion are philosophically unperturbed.

Peter Kump, who founded the Comedia Repertory Company in Menlo Park seven years ago, pays salaries to 20 workers (four of which are directors) in a company of 150 members. The group performs four nights a week, takes their shows to local high schools and clubs on the other nights and presents a free admission series of classics.

"We'll be affected but in a helpful way. Since those theatres will only perform a show for two weeks, word of mouth will stimulate interest and people can see it at our theatre if they missed it in Burlingame or San Carlos."

Peter contends that his competition operates like a nightclub with a big name star in the lead role and a musical show like a framework behind him. "The personalities are not always right for the show but people are attracted to the popularity of the name."

He further believes, and this is a unanimous consensus of opinion among local little theatre spokesmen, that "the best thing that could ever happen in a community is to produce good theatre; the terrible and most frightening thought is that large numbers of theatregoers might be disappointed and thereby generally condemn the medium."

COMPETITION will actually be between the two new companies and not infringe.

Barbara Kahn, president of the San Carlos Community Theatre which was one of the earliest serious amateur groups on the Peninsula, admitted that the theater would no longer present musicals. The 25-year-old company which has 35 active members does three shows a year. They'll stick to comedies and light plays.

"We depend on local support. The production expenses are not subsidized but we're not charged rent at the City Hall where they perform. We have some San Carlans who never miss a show, no matter what we put on. There's always a group who will come to see their friends in a play. Those we depend on and won't lose to the professional theatres."

Hillbarn Players and Millbrae Community Theatre are under the auspices of the College of San Mateo Adult Education program. They have built strong reputations during their quarter of a century of performing and its unlikely that their impact will be weakened by the commercialism of big name stars.

Suppose seven blind persons were the only survivors of a plane crash in the wilds of the Northwest. Now you have the novel, "Against Heaven's Hand."

What a story! In the main episode, a healthy baby is born to a blind mother whose back has been broken by the crash. In acting as midwives, a blind singer—beautiful and famous—and a middle-aged woman—blind and afraid—find courage and pleasure in their service to the mother and child.

In another incident, six of the survivors huddle around a fire while a seventh crawls away to fight and kill a bear.

Everything these sightless seven do to survive—building a fire for example — presents problems that seeing men can barely imagine.

Before the survivors can accomplish their security, they quarrel until their snow covered wilderness becomes a land full of pain.

The seven characters include Mark Larsen, blinded in the war, a self-accused coward and now a physical education teacher.

He becomes the leader of the survivors, makes the fire, procures the food, fights the bear, and learns to love Deborah Cabot, the beautiful singer.

Others are Alex Swain whose megalomania nearly ruins the story; Mrs. Kovak, the mother of the baby; Emily Garth, the middle-aged woman; Max Rhode, embittered by his handicap, and Sam Fuller, on his way to his daughter's wedding and full of self pity.

While there are some defects in the way the author handles the incidents, "Against Heaven's Hand" is high adventure and reading it is an amazing experience.

Pacific Parade

'Romantic Californ-i-a'

Don Miller

WHEN MUSIC lovers gather in San Francisco's Sigmund Stern Grove at 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon, they'll be treated to the first major performance of a stirring march composed by a Daly City maestro.

It's a march so lively and bright, composer George Brenner of 527 Crocker Avenue allows, that he'd like to see it become the official march of the Golden State.

And to that end, Brenner confided to us the other day, he is dedicating his efforts—a one-man campaign—that gets its official kickoff at Sunday's concert.

Brenner is Daly City's own Music Man. Back in 1928, when band concerts were as much a part of the American neighborhood scene as the flapper was to the Broadway stage, Brenner organized the city's first municipal band.

For the next 36 years, he guided the band through a busy schedule of concerts—both in Daly City and in surrounding Bay Area communities.

Until three years ago, the band was under the aegis of the city's recreation department. Now it's in sort of a general public relations category. The band is called upon to perform at civic functions where the city's role usually is a prominent one.

Brenner stepped down as bandmaster of the group two months ago. He was succeeded by Roland Terry.

Retiring from a position he so dearly loved, however, did not mean the end of Brenner's musical activities. His new marching song is testimony to this.

WHY A MARCH for California?

"I felt in my mind it was about time to write a good marching song to promote the State of California. The old marches, like 'California, Here I Come' and 'I Love You, California' were getting old. I couldn't see any reason why somebody couldn't write a new state song."

Brenner said he first started thinking about composing the march two years ago. Today, the finished product, entitled "Romantic Californ-i-a," has been duly registered with the Library of Congress.

The composer modestly insists that "there never will be any money in it for me because I'm going to dedicate the march to the State of California."

So now that we've got you all hepped about the possibility of a state march being born in Daly City, here are the lyrics you might be singing someday.

ROMANTIC CALIFORN-I-A

Verse

Long ago, our fathers blazed a trail from Utah,
Down along the old Pacific shore,
Found a land they knew was simply grand
Where flowers bloom in springtime,
You and I adore.

Skies of blue, this land was made for you,
A paradise beneath the good old western skies.

Can't you see, it's just the place to be
Where beauty reigns supreme and future lies.

Chorus

Romantic Californ-i-a in this grand land
The good old U.S.A.

Where sunshine makes each day a memory
Meet friends you always want to see.

We'll march along and tell our own true story

Give a cheer for our old glory,
Hail the Golden Bear emblem of state,
It's our romantic Californ-i-a.

THIS NEW MARCH is not the first musical literature Brenner has turned out. Back in 1939, when the glittering Golden Gate International Exposition opened on Treasure Island, exposition visitors tapped their feet to the lively strains of a Brenner composition called "Sounds from Treasure Island." It was written as a trumpet solo.

Brenner also has composed circus band music, including works for the Clyde Beatty Circus. His compositions have been published by no less a noted name in music circles than the Carl Fisher Company.

Does he think band music will ever be overwhelmed by rock 'n roll, the Beatles, and all the rest of that lot, and fade from the American scene?

"No, there always will be a place for band music. Some people think a band is old-fashioned. But what they don't realize is that you can play the most modern of modern music with a band."

Which, from where we listen, is encouraging to hear. Could be that some of this current grunt and groan business just might sound palatable when dressed up with a few oomp pah pahs.

Peninsula Panorama

It's the Year Of the Snails

George Whitesell

FROM WHAT irate gardeners tell us, this year of 1964 may be long remembered as "The Year of the Snail."

The slimy little gastropods appear to have had a population explosion all of their own here on the Peninsula and are moving in on tender foliage in many places where they were never seen before.

They have moved in with "massive front" tactics and pay no more attention to casualties than a Chinese army.

Put out poison for them and they gratefully lap it up. They also perish right on top of it and cover it up so that the next wave of snail troops will go right on by.

Snails do not have a lick of sense, but just as with humans in the same category, this does not prevent them from being adventurous and even arrogant.

They cannot rush in like fools where angels fear to tread, but they do the same thing at a snail's pace.

Almost nothing will stop a snail who wants to get to greener pastures. He will nonchalantly climb up the walls of a house, cross the roof, and come down on the other side. He thinks nothing of taking a week to do this.

Incidentally, given speedway conditions, a snail can travel about a half-mile a week.

THEY HITCHHIKE without even knowing they are doing so and this is one of the reasons why they spread around more quickly than they can move under their own power.

A snail will attach himself to the underside of an auto or truck and ride a hundred miles without even knowing he has left home.

He just climbs calmly down and heads for the nearest petunias.

One gentleman told us that he noticed a couple of snails inside the cutting housing of his rotary lawnmower. He left them there while he cut the lawn. Afterward, they were still there, totally unperturbed.

SNAILS ARE very independent operators. They carry their own shell homes around on their backs and are ready to set up housekeeping or business anywhere.

Their eyes are out on the ends of their horns and they can see in all directions at once — they don't miss anything within view.

They leave a slimy trail when they travel and their teeth are on their tongues. Neither of these traits makes them any more lovable.

In fact, it is very hard to whomp up real affection for snails and most people don't even try.

The Hoosier method for getting rid of snails is sprinkling salt on them, a process we would rather not discuss here.

The French method is typically French and thrifty. They get rid of the little sons-of-guns by eating them. They even raise them for this purpose.

The Peninsula method is poisoning by means of snail bait or pellets. The snails dote on both and will pass up a chance to gobble a juicy bed of pansies just to commit suicide.

Unfortunately, all snails have relatives and there are more of them, usually, than there is poison. So they just slither on by the happy corpses of Uncle Pete, Aunt Zobedia, and Grandpa, and head for anything green.

WHILE SNAILS are fairly wide in their tastes, they do have a preference for the more expensive shrubs, flowers and bedding plants.

They will pass up the cheaper garden truck you plant from seeds and pick out the peppers, tomatoes and any other plants you bought from the nurseryman.

On the other hand, it must be said that they are all members of the Clean Plate Club. They leave nothing but the stems when they dine off a precious plant.

This department cannot undertake to advise you on snails. We did this once. We told a poor soul to get some ducks or geese and that they would promptly eat all the snails they could find. This proved to be quite true and it worked just dandy, but his rueful final comment was: "I would of rather had the snails than the ducks and the geese."

Divine Services

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

FAREWELL SERVICE

Former Minister To Leave Area

Reverend Lynn Hodges will conduct this Sunday's worship service at the Westlake Community Baptist Church before leaving with his family to assume the pastorate at the First Baptist Church of Tacoma, Wash., on July 12.

His theme will be "It Takes More Than Money."

Rev. Hodges was pastor of the Westlake Community Baptist Church from August 1959 to September 1962 before he became executive secretary of the American Baptist Union of San Francisco Bay Cities.

He has also conducted his own broadcast each week from a local station entitled "People and Places."

His wife, Clara Hodges, is a licensed minister in her own right. She has held offices on the state board and also in the leadership training program of the Bay Area.

The Hodges' children have also worked in the youth programs of the Bay Area. Shirley is an accomplished musician and has accompanied her father on many occasions. Stanley and Lynn Jr., have led the youth groups in their activities.

After the Sunday service, there will be a fellowship gathering. Refreshments will be served and there will be an opportunity to visit with the members of the family before their departure from this area.

Speaker Set At Westside

The Reverend Allen B. Finley will be the guest speaker Sunday at the Westside Baptist Morning Evening Services.

He will give a first-hand report on the progress of Christian churches overseas, with slides to be shown at the evening service.

Rev. Finley is a graduate of Bob Jones University and is currently general director of the Christian Nationals' Evangelism Commission. He has wide experience as a missionary speaker and Christian leader.

The mid-week prayer and Bible study hour of Westside is scheduled to be held tonight at the home of James Besser of 500 Del Monte Avenue in South San Francisco. Pastor A. David Donnelly will lead the group in the continued study of "The Work of the Holy Spirit—the Baptism of the Spirit."

Temple Plans June Jamboree

Temple Judea will hold a June Jamboree dance party Saturday night in the Fellowship Hall of the temple on Brotherhood Way from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

The dance will feature door prizes, live music and refreshments. The host is Phil Segal and more information may be obtained by calling UN 1-0758.

EDWARD GOLDKUHL
Father of Year

Goldkuhl Is Given Honor

Edward W. Goldkuhl was named "Father of the Year" at the Father's Day service Sunday held at the Westlake Community Baptist Church.

The award, an engraved plaque, is given annually to the father who, by vote of the congregation, has contributed most in service and dedication as a layman in any area of church life.

Goldkuhl, who serves as a deacon, is active in men's work and has an exemplary record of attendance at church worship services and Christian stewardship.

Gospel Singers To Sing Here

The Revivalaires Trio Missionary Team will be ministering at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Good News Chapel in South San Francisco, according to Pastor Donald P. Wertz.

The noted gospel singers have their headquarters in Eugene, Oregon. They will be spending approximately five months in missionary evangelism in the Caribbean Islands and South America beginning July 5.

Sisterhood to Hold Meeting

New officers of the B'nai Israel Sisterhood will meet with President Mrs. Gary Papelbaum at her home at 158 Northridge Drive Monday at 8:30 p.m. to formulate plans for the coming year.

The officers were installed recently by Judge Lenore Underwood at a dinner at Sabella's on Fisherman's Wharf.

A June Wedding

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD GENO
(Milton Mann Studios)

Joan Lucille Horgan, Richard Geno Are Wed

Joan Lucille Horgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Horgan of 65 Santa Rita Avenue, San Francisco, and Richard Earl Geno, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Geno of 43 Eastgate Drive, Daly City, were married in Our Lady of Mercy Church, Daly City.

The bride attended the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Menlo Park. She wore a white gown of silk organza with a flowing chapel train.

Nell O'Brien was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Irene Fortune, Beckey Fredericks, Sarah Rydberg and Claudia Geno.

The bride's mother wore a blue crepe dress with matching shoes and veiled hat.

The groom is a graduate of the University of California. The best man was Paul Lindberg and the ushers were John Horgan and Ralph Vatalano.

The mother of the groom wore a green chiffon dress with matching hat and shoes.

A reception was held after the wedding at the Forest Hill Club. The couple honeymooned at Carmel and Disneyland.

Bethel Hosts Revivalaires

The Revivalaires Trio Missionary Team with headquarters in Eugene, Ore. will appear at Bethel Church of Pacifica, Adobe Drive and Higgins Way, at 7:30 this evening.

The team, which emphasizes inspirational singing, has traveled extensively throughout the United States. Members are Bob Dempster of Los Angeles, Sharon Bock of Vancouver, Wash., and Dave Garrison of Dayton, Ohio.

The Say When Club at 6192 Mission Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had taken a set of keys from the front door of the club.

Rev. Johnson Goes East to Bible Study

The Reverend George S. Johnson, pastor of Bethlehem Lutheran Church, left Sunday for Madison, Wisconsin, where he is enrolled in the Bethel Bible program for two weeks of training.

The Bethel Bible program is a new approach to adult Christian education. Clergymen from all denominations have enrolled in this course.

In the congregations where they have adopted this program, there are waiting lists of lay people to study the Bible, states Rev. Johnson.

Pastor Johnson plans to take his family with him to the Midwest where they will visit their family and relatives in Minneapolis and Canton, S. D.

During his absence from Bethlehem, a pre-seminary student, Del Kjorvestad, from Long Beach will fill the pulpit and handle all parish calls.

Policeman Fights Son's Expulsion

A continued fight against the high school expulsion of his son Gerald was promised Thursday by South San Francisco Policeman Paul Tognetti.

It is not, he says, that he objects to his son having been punished for playfully having a cigar, and sharing with four others "about three quarters" of a pint of booze.

Tognetti punished his sons for that, himself.

What really gets under his skin, he says, is that the punishment was so extreme (two weeks expulsion plus the loss of at least one college scholarship and the probable loss of an appointment to Annapolis) for what was his sons' first offense.

Both Tognetti boys were honor students, he said, Gerald through almost four full years of high school, and Bruce through most of his first year.

Their mother agrees with the fight.

"Never in all the years my children have been in school have they ever once had to call me up and tell me my children were misbehaving. Never."

Tognetti said he would appeal County Superior Court Judge Howard Hartley's June 15 ruling that South San Francisco High School officials were within their rights when they suspended the two brothers for smoking and drinking.

He and his wife said the boys were expelled from school without any effort on the school's part to notify the parents or to seek the parents' co-operation.

He said the manner in which the expulsion was handled was so "quick and careless" that the youths were charged (on their school records) with violating a section of the education code which includes use of narcotics on a schoolground.

"The State Supreme Court reversed the decision of a school in an expulsion case on the grounds that no other corrective measure were taken," he said, pointing out that no previous corrective measures had ever been taken against his sons.

Gerald, at the center of the legal battle, explained that the incidents occurred during a Model UN Assembly in Berkeley.

Nine South San Francisco students took part on a Friday and Saturday meeting in a Berkeley hotel.

About dinner time Friday night, Gerald said, he and four other boys, his brother Bruce included, went out and bought some cigars and the pint of bourbon whiskey.

He said they passed around the cigars at dinner time, gave one to their male teacher chaperone, and were not told to stop. The male teacher thanked them for the cigar, he said.

Later, the boys nipped at the bottle. Finally, feeling they had gone too far, they took the remainder of the whiskey to their female teacher's room, and gave it to her. Gerald says they were told to forget the whole thing, and completed the conference next day.

Again during the ride home, he said, the students were told not to bring the incident up.

Mrs. Tognetti says she should have been notified right then, when the incident happened.

It was not until Monday morning, Gerald says, that he was told by his teacher that she would have to report the boys, because the incident was being rumored around school.

That night the board decided to expel the five boys, and the parents were not told, Togneti says, until Tuesday morning.

"The superintendent of the schools made a public statement that suspensions are only resorted to after all corrective measures fail and the 'problem' children then has to be suspended to protect the good children," says Tognetti.

D.C. Workers Learn Safety Hints, Rules

Daly City employees have become safety conscious because of an educational program being formulated and pushed by the city's safety committee.

According to committee chairman David Howe, at least 90 per cent of the city's employees saw a film on muscle strain last month. This month's program will be about artificial respiration and safe driving.

Safety suggestion awards of $10 have been given to Joseph Gerack of the building inspector's office and Joseph Bloem of the public works department.

Gerack suggested that an automatic closing device be placed on the door leading from the building department to the recreation department in the War Memorial Community Center.

The door is potentially dangerous, he said, because it is sometimes slammed shut by the wind.

Bloem suggested fluorescent vests for personnel in the maintenance department who work on street projects. The city has ordered the vests.

Bus Driver Accused of Murder Try

A South San Francsco bus driver was jailed Thursday for attempting to murder his wife last week while committing suicide in a gas-filled car.

Clifford William Woods, 34, was taken from County General Hospital, where he had been recovering from carbon monoxide poisoning, to county jail. He was booked there on a charge of attempted murder.

His wife, Mrs. Carmen M. Woods, 27, 282 Dundee Avenue, South San Francisco, has reportedly recovered from her ordeal.

Police discovered the incident when they were called to Mrs. Woods' house June 12 at 8 p.m., by Mrs. Woods.

Officers found both Mr. and Mrs. Woods "extremely sick" from carbon monoxide poisoning.

Mrs. Woods told them she had arrived home from work about 6:30 and found her estranged husband at the house.

He insisted on talking about their marital problems, she said, and they sat in the car, inside the closed garage.

Although Mrs. Woods demanded that he turn off the engine, she told officers, he refused.

He also refused to let her out of the auto.

After some time, Woods, who had previously been drinking, she said, became more groggy than his wife.

She escaped from the car, and climbed the stairs into her house. There she opened windows and called for police.

Officers say Woods had followed her up the stairs, but collapsed as he entered the house.

Mrs. Woods was taken to Kaiser Foundation Emergency Hospital and transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital in San Francisco, where she had been cared for by her own physician.

Woods has been a guest of the County General Hospital, while detectives investigated Mrs. Woods' charges and prepared their charges.

JUHS Receives Federal Grant

A federal grant of $60,780 to the Jefferson Union High School District has been announced by Congressman J. Arthur Younger.

The funds will repay the district for the cost of teaching children of employes of federal projects that pay no school taxes.

TIRES STOLEN

Donald A. Brusa of 717 Cottonwood Avenue, South San Francisco, reported to Daly City police last week that thieves had stolen two chrome wheels and an air cleaner from his auto, parked near the Serra Theater.

Extra Period Set at S.S.F.

Due to an expected 200 increase in student enrollment at South San Francisco High School, a one period overlap will be instituted next year, according to Principal Louis Bagnall.

Attendance this year is 1,625. Next year it is expected to jump to 1,830.

Bagnall stated that when enrollment reaches a point much over 1,500, school facilities are crowded and it is difficult to accommodate all students and provide each with desired subjects.

Plans now call for grades nine and ten to begin school a period earlier than upperclassmen. During the next five periods the entire student body will be on campus. The last period of the day only juniors and seniors will attend.

Pacifica Legion Post 238 Dedicates Headquarters

A former bank building, moved to a new location in Rockaway Beach, was formally dedicated Saturday as the headquarters of Pacifica Post 238, American Legion.

The wood frame structure, which formerly housed the Eureka Federal Savings Bank in Sharp Park, is located at 555 Buell Avenue. It was moved there six months ago.

Taking part in the dedication were Ameican Legion officials, led by Post Commander Thomas Wisbey and District Commander Frank Gomes, and city officials led by Mayor Fred Ballew.

A 30-piece band from the Oakland Army Terminal provided music for the festivities.

The post purchased the building from the state for $1,800. The state had acquired it in purchasing right-of-way land for Pacifica's freeway, now under construction.

The structure has been completely renovated. An old French cannon has been placed in front of the building as a decorative piece.

In addition to serving as a headquarters for the post, the building also serves as a meeting place for the First Christian Church of Pacifica, Sea Scout Troop 238, a Babe Ruth League team and the Pacifica branch of the Civil Air Patrol.

It also serves as a voting station.

WINDOW BROKEN

H. B. Angulo of 297 Lincoln Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had broken in a window in his residence.

Pacifica to Hold Study

Pacifica planning commissioners put over study of a proposed new hillside apartment development of between 100 and 150 units last week to allow time for an over-all study of the entire hillside area at the eastern end of Sharp Park.

Seeking rezoning of 9.3 acres from an agricultural to an apartment zone is Hollis Sweeney. A planning administrator's report suggested the area be zoned as a planned community zone.

Also held over at the request of the applicant was approval of a nonconforming sign at the Pacificia U-Save Bottle Shop.

Planners recommended that city council pass new ordinances regulating construction of condominiums and creating an unclassified zone.

A hearing was continued on a proposed new zoning ordinance.

CAR VANDALIZED

Lloyd H. Callender of 408 Winchester Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that vandals had tampered with the spark plug wires of his auto, parked in front of 6057 Mission Street.

Fire Damage Totals $3000

Fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated $3,000 damage to the Geneva Club at 2601 Geneva Avenue, Daly City, early last Wednesday morning.

Capt. Keith Schrock of the Daly City Fire Department said the flames burned through a bar and burned several bar stools. He said the fire apparently started in an area between a sink and the bar.

A passerby saw smoke pouring from the building and called firemen. The owner told firefighters he had closed the club around 9 o'clock the previous evening.

Schrock said the damage estimate included $1,500 to the building and $1,500 to the contents.

Pacifica Woman Seriously Hurt

Mrs. Dolores Moore, 42, of 1288 Lerida Way, Pacifica, was seriously injured Friday when her car sheared off a signal pole on Cabrillo Highway

Highway patrolmen said Mrs. Moore was southbound at 3:10 a.m. when she lost control of her car.

S.S.F. Man Kills Self

A South San Francisco mechanic killed himself in his hotel room some time Wednesday, police report.

The body of Jack Frances Murray, 42, was found in his room at the Metropolitan Hotel, 220 Linden Avenue, by a maid who entered to clean up at 11:20 a.m.

Police said the time of death was apparently several hours before that hour.

A .38 calibre revolved was found on the floor beside Murray who was dressed in street clothes. The County Coroner's office confirmed the suicide report, saying death had been caused by a bullet through the right temple.

The Coroner said a doctor's prescription found in the room led to the information that Murray had been under treatment for seizures, and that he was tense and despondent because of this.

Survivors include a wife, Anne, in Mountain View.

D.C. Program Set on July 5

July 5 at 10:30 a.m. has been the time announced by KPIX (Channel 5) television officials for presentation of a historical documentary saluting Daly City.

The salute will be a program on the well-known "Discussion" series.

The pictorial documentary will trace the history of Daly City from the time it was incorporated in 1911 to the present position as the second largest city in San Mateo County and the site of the Republican Convention.

[illegible] Colman, public affairs director of KPIX, is executive producer of the telecast and will write the narration.

Contract Is Awarded for Outfall Work

A contract for engineering services to prepare plans and specifications for repair of the Sharp Park outfall line has been awarded to Edgar A. Griswold by the Pacifica City Council in a unanimous vote.

The council had held up award of the bid, pending investigation of a report that work Griswold had done for the neighboring North San Mateo County Sanitation District may have been in error.

Designers of the Daly City district's outfall line at Thornton Beach had requested $20,000 more for additional anchorage after divers found that a sandy bottom described in Griswold's report was not there. Instead, there was a hard bottom.

Pacifica councilmen yanked the item off of the agenda three weeks ago for further study after a hurried personnel session.

According to City Manager Karl Baldwin, the matter was discussed in another personnel session before Wednesday's vote.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Small cavities in the tooth can be filled more easily and with less discomfort than large ones.

If decay is neglected it leads to infection and abscess formation. An infected tooth is a hazard to good health and often must be removed.

A tooth that has been lost should be replaced by an artificial one. If it is not, the other teeth will shift. This shifting may lead to more decay and to diseases of the gums.

Irregular placement of the teeth should be corrected for many reasons: to improve appearance, speech and the ability to chew food and to help prevent other dental diseases. Regular dental treatment will help you to have teeth that are both healthy and attractive.

In northern California Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same: however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the most beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

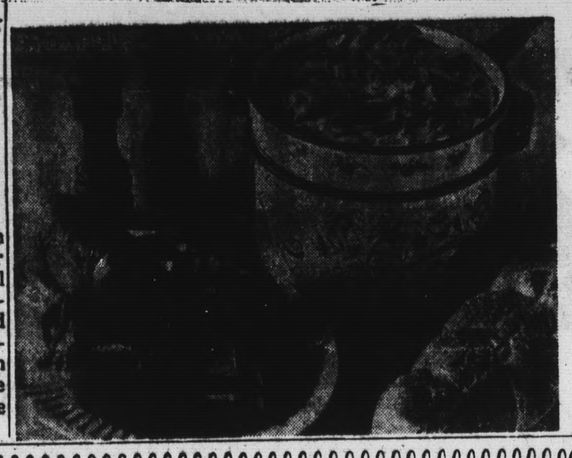
Salmon Mousse For Hot Weather



A delicately flavored salmon mousse sounds like a perfect hot-weather dish, doesn't it? But if you're the cook in your house, aren't you thinking — "Yes, but who wants to cook an elaborate dish like that in this weather? I'd rather open a can!"

Surprise! This summer, you can maintain your reputation as a gourmet cook, and cook the easy way, too, because can-cookery is what makes it easy to prepare perfect salmon mousse. Open a can of salmon, and you're well on your way to the most delicious mousse you ever tasted. Blending gelatin, salmon and whipped cream (the exact recipe is printed below) results in a smooth, not-too-filling main course for your next hot-night dinner party, or a surprisingly festive dinner for the family. The blending takes merely minutes and because the mousse must chill until set, you can make it early of a cool morning, then produce it at the end of the hot day with a relaxed, "it was easy" look in your eye.

And while the texture of a mousse is light and airy, remember that salmon is an excellent source of protein, and is chock full of good nutrition, so you're feeding your family sensibly every time you open a can of salmon. But a gala recipe helps make them enjoy what's good for them so much more.

With the mousse, you might want ot serve tiny biscuits (the kind that come in a can would be a fitting accompaniment, and need baking for such a short time that your kitchen will stay cool), a green salad tossed with vinegar and oil, tall glasses of iced tea or coffee, and a tart lemon sherbet for dessert—the lemon flavor to contrast with the salmon's distinctive taste.

Salmon mousse is just one of many summertime meals you can find in a can of salmon. Whether you're preparing a simple salmon-salad sandwich, a hearty salmon casserole, or using versatile salmon as a base for party appetizers, you'll find it's easy to be a good cook, and a cool one, this summer — as long as there's a can of salmon on your pantry shelf.

SALMON MOUSSE

1 envelope plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water or salmon liquid from can ½ cup boiling water
a 1-pound can salmon
1 tablespoon grated horseradish
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 cup cream, whipped

Soften gelatin in the cold water or salmon liquid. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is completely dissolved. Flake salmon into mixing bowl and add horseradish and lemon juice. Gradually beat in the dissolved gelatin. Press mixture through a fine sieve and fold in the whipped cream. Turn into a 6-cup timbale mold and chill until set. Garnish with cucumber slices and water cress or parsley, or with aspic shells.

To Make Mousse in an Electric Blender

Into container of the electric blender put gelatin, cold water or salmon liquid, and half the boiling water. Cover and blend on high speed for 40 seconds. Empty into mixing bowl. Into container put remaining hot water, remaining salmon, the horseradish and lemon juice. Cover and blend until mixture is smooth. Pour into mixing bowl and mix thoroughly. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into 6-cup timbale mold and chill until set.

QUICK ASPIC

Soften 1 envelope plain gelatin in 1 can (10½ ounces) beef consomme and ¼ cup water. Stir over low heat until gelatin is completely dissolved. Pour into shell-cooky molds and chill until set. Place molds on a towel wrung out of hot water, and lift the aspic shells out carefully with a spatula. Moisten flat side of the aspic and place on top and around sides of the salmon mousse.

Girl's Novel Main Dish

An ingenious main dish from our Girl Friday.

Charlotte's Budget Dish
Lettuce and Tomato Salad
Cookies Beverage

CHARLOTTE'S BUDGET DISH

2 tablespoons margarine
1 pound chicken hearts
1 can condensed chicken gumbo soup
1 cup converted-type rice
Salt and pepper to taste
⅛ teaspoon poultry seasoning
Minced onion and parsley to taste

In a surface-heat and oven lightly brown the chicken hearts. Add enough boiling water to the soup to make 2¼ cups; add to chicken hearts with rice and seasonings; mix well. Cover and bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until rice and hearts are tender and liquid is absorbed — 30 to 40 minutes. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Lobster Creme Easy to Make

Entertaining can be easy if you keep a good supply of assorted canned goods on hand. For instance, a superb Lobster Creme, can be made in a matter of minutes. Serve it over fluffy rice or in patty shells for a party luncheon. Toast points make a perfect base for this delicious treat for late supper entertaining.

LOBSTER CREME

(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

1 (4oz.) can sliced button mushrooms
1 (6oz.) can lobster, drained
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons chopped pimento
1 tabelspoon instant minced onion
1 tablespoon celery flakes
1¾ cups water
23 cup instant nonfat dry milk
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Saute mushrooms and lobster in butter until mushrooms are browned. Add pimento, onion and celery flakes. Pour water into top of double boiler. Sprinkle dry milk, flour, salt and pepper over surface of water. Beat with rotary beater just until blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Stir in lobster mixture and lemon juice. Cook until well heated.

SAUCE FOR FISH

To add new flavor appeal to fish try this quick flavorful sauce. Combine 1 can condensed cream of vegetable or celery soup with 1-3 cup of milk. Heat, but do not boil. Add 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. Serve in a sauceboat with a light sprinkle of paprika.

Are Outdated Building Codes Penalizing the Home Buyer?

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Are horse-and-buggy building codes doing a double disservice to the home buyer? Are they preventing him from reaping the advantages of new materials and design concepts? Are they forcing him to pay more money for a house that could be built cheaper if modern cost-cutting procedures could be followed?

Manufacturers, builders and most housing authorities scream an emphatic "yes." They point to the thousands of different local building codes throughout country. A house built with certain materials in a certain way in one village often cannot be duplicated in the adjoining village. In the suburbs of Chicago, for instance, there is a hodgepodge of more than 150 different local codes. Similar situations exist in the suburbs of nearly every city in the nation. Some of the codes are long since outdated.

Some communities which ostensibly subscribe to national codes have made so many local modifications that the objective of unification has been lost. Upon inspection, it is startling to discover that some codes prohibit the use of such things as slab construction, dry walls, interlocking roof shingles, flush doors, factory-built chimneys and many other materials and techniques which are commonplace elsewhere.

There are some who argue for a national building code established and regulated by the federal government. They say that such a code should permit only such modifications as are made necessary by geographical considerations—as, for example, hurricane bracings in some areas. Opponents of such a code say it soon would be bogged down by red tape and political squabbling. They further point out that the Public Housing Administration, which serves the low income market, already has a building code with regulations which, in some cases, are more stringent than those in local codes.

Why have building codes at all? Obviously, there have to be some rules to protect the public from shoddy materials and workmanship. Fine, say the builders, we go along with that 100 per cent, since it protects the reputable manufacturers and contractors in our industry from the fly-by-nighters. The solution, they add, is a recognition that the only good code is one which does not prohibit certain materials and systems, but does prohibit any materials and systems which fail to perform up to minimum standards.

In other words, this school of thought advocates a performance code. It tells what a material or a construction method should do; it doesn't spell out every material and method to be used. The performance code thus would permit the use of a new material which might be better and cheaper—as long as it performs as well or better than an old material. A specification code tells exactly what product may be used for a specific purpose, thus automatically ruling out all new and better products that might come along in the future.

Some cities have taken steps to unify building codes and get rid of outmoded specifications. But the problem is so complex that it will be with us for many years to come, if not always.

Technical Terms are Explained

The instructions for a home project sometimes contain a number of technical or semi-technical terms, not only to avoid long explanations at the expense of valuable space, but more importantly, to give precision to the directions. Clip out the following list and keep it handy for reference.

AGGREGATES—The ingredients, usually sand and gravel, which are mixed with water and portland cement to make concrete.

AUGER—A type of bit used for making holes in wood or a long, spring-like metal tool used for clearing drains and pipes of obstructions.

BASEBOARD—The moulding at the bottom of a wall adjoining the floor.

BOARDS—Yard lumber less than two inches thick and eight or more inches wide.

BRAD—A small nail with a head only slightly larger than the diameter of the nail.

BUTT JOINT — A joint in which the two pieces of wood or other material are placed squarely against each other.

CAULKING — The filling of cracks and crevaces with a special compound that expands and contracts with the materials which it touches.

CHUCK—The part of a drill which tightens around a bit and holds it in place.

COUNTERSINK—To make a shaped opening in wood or other material so that a screw can be driven in all the way, enabling the screw head to be flush with or below the surface.

COUPLING—A connector between two pieces of pipe or hose.

DOWEL—Round wood or metal usually used to join two materials.

DRY ROT—Wood decay resulting from any one of several causes, but usually associated with fungi.

DRY WALL—Hardboard, gypsum board or other wall material other than plaster.

DRY WELL—A large opening in the ground, filled with a drainage container to permit the seepage into the soil of rain water from a house or other building.

EFFLORESCENCE — The whitish substance that appears on masonry surfaces when moisture causes the mineral salts to crystallize.

EMERY PAPER—An abrasive paper used on metal.

FLUX — A paste or liquid which cleans metal before soldering and which helps the solder to flow more easily.

FURRING STRIPS — Wooden strips used for leveling and other purposes and to which dry walls, ceilings and other finished surfaces are attached.

LATH—The base over which plaster is applied.

MORTAR—A mixture of portland cement, sand and water, most often used for bonding bricks and stones.

PLUMB — Straight up and down.

PUMICE—An abrasive powder used for smoothing surfaces.

SHIM—A strip of wood or cardboard placed under surface to bring it even with or higher than another surface.

SOLE PLATE — A horizontal piece of wood or metal on which wall framework rests.

STRIKE PLATE—The metal plate on a door jamb into which the latch bolt fits.

STUDS—The vertical supports which make up the framework to which furring strips and or walls are attached.

TEMPLATE—A pattern.

VENEER—A thin surfacing, usually applied to the top layer of wood.

Wholesome, Quick-to-Fix Dinner Dish

For a wholesome, quick to fix dinner dish that will easily serve six to eight, try Spanish Style Sirloin Tips.

This recipe is especially simple to prepare when you're using already cooked frozen sirloin tips as the base, for some of the preparation is done for you.

All you need to complete this dinner menu is a fruit salad and piping hot rolls with buttre.

Spanish Style Sirloin Tips

- 2 (14-ounce) packages frozen sirloin tips
- 1 (8-ounce) can stewed tomaotes
- 1 large green pepper, thinly sliced
- 2 (15-ounce) cans white lima beans, drained

Heat the sirloin tips in a large skillet; add tomatoes and green pepper. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Add lima beans and heat to boiling. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Salmon Sandwich Tasty for Summer

Thin slices of salty rye bread, filled with salmon salad, are arranged on wooden skewers. The skewers are stuck into a cauliflower set in a wicker basket and surrounded by salad greens.

It's a time of the year to think about refreshing, yet nourishing lunches and, if you think about canned salmon, you'll never run out of ideas.

Canned salmon makes an ideal luncheon sandwich filling. Just the color alone is appetising, but the flavor is appealing and combines perfectly with other salad ingredients, with mayonnaise or with French dressing.

Here are two sandwich fillings that you will enjoy.

SALMON, EGG SALAD, SANDWICH FILLING

A 1-pound can salmon
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon minced onion
⅛ cup chopped celery
4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 tablespoon French dressing
½ cup mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste

Drain and flake salmon and combine with remaining ingredients. Mix lightly but well. Makes 8 hearty sandwiches.

SUMMER SALMON SANDWICH FILLING

A 1-pound can salmon
1 cucumber, peeled and chopped
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
1 tablespoon minced parsley or dill
2 tablespoons chopped chives or scallions
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon French dressing
½ cup mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste

Drain and flake salmon and combine with remaining ingredients. Mix lightly but well. Makes 8 hearty sandwiches.

Stuffed Spareribs Dish Is Savory

Open the summer season with a barbecue. Feature savory stuffed spareribs — flaky fully baked dinner rolls — a tossed salad of crisp garden fresh lettuce, succulent tomatoes and fresh strips of green pepper.

Juicy apples and tender sauerkraut added to the stuffing give the spareribs an unusual zest and flavor — one which will be enjoyed by everyone.

Stuffed Spareribs

1 package herb-seasoned stuffing
1 cup diced apples
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup minced onion
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1½ cups sauerkraut
½ teaspoon marjoram leaves
2 slabs spareribs (about 3 lbs. each)
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate

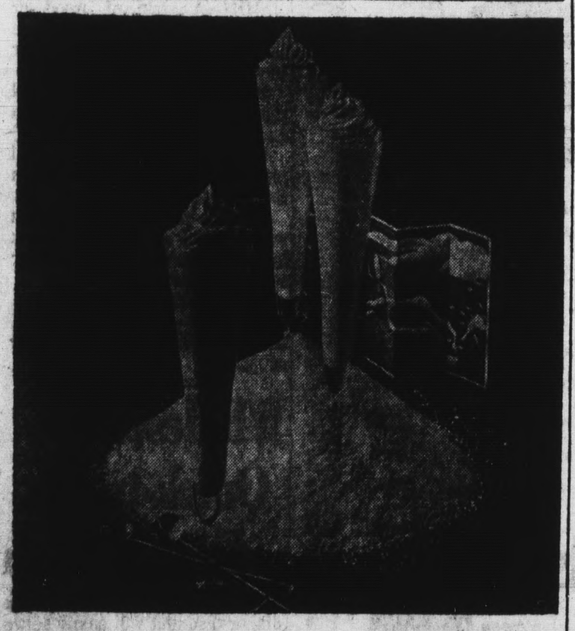
Prepare herb-seasoned stuffing according to package directions. Sprinkle diced apples with lemon juice. (This prevents apples from turning dark.)

In saucepan, saute onion in butter or margarine until tender. To prepared stuffing mixture add onions, sauerkraut, apples, and marjoram leaves; toss together lightly.

Season spareribs with monosodium glutamate. Spoon stuffing mixture on one slab of spareribs; then place second spareribs on top. Secure spareribs together with skewers and string.

Place stuffed ribs in a folding wire grill and cook over hot glowing coals, turning frequently for 1 to 1½ hours or until meat is thoroughly cooked.

If you wish to prepare spareribs indoors, bake ribs in a shallow baking pan in a moderate oen (350 degrees F.) for about 1½ hours. Makes 6 to 8 serings.



Creme Capped Dessert Cool

Cool as the snows of Mount Everest—that's a dessert developed to tempt the palates of Dessert is cool to cook and cool to eat.

MOUNT EVEREST DESSERT
(Makes eight ½cup servings)

1 (15oz.) can sweetened condensed milk
½ cup lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
1 pint (2 cups) sour cream
1 (3½oz.) can coconut
1 pint (1 cup) heavy cream, whipped

In a large bowl, blend sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice and rind. Fold in sour cream and coconut. Spoon into individual parfait glasses or dessert dishes. Chill in refrigerator 2 hours or until set. Garnish with whipped cream to serve. NOTE: If desired, this dessert can be frozen. Place individual desserts in freezer for 3 hours or until mixture is frozen. Garnish with whipped cream after removing from freezer.

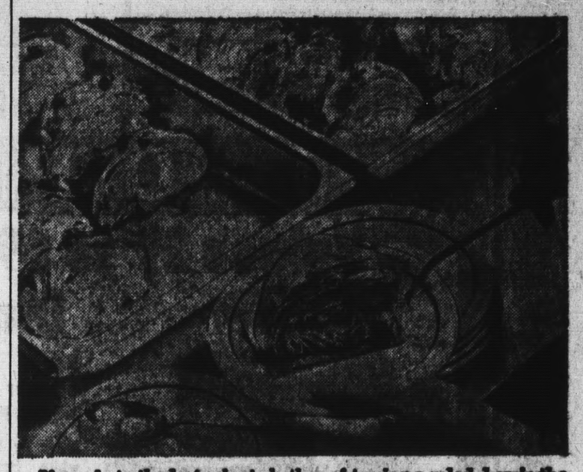
Lettuce Wedge An Easy Salad



If you hate the last minute bother of tossing a salad, here's the perfect salad for you. A lettuce wedge salad which you can prepare at least two hours ahead. Although the recipe here is a salad for 4 to 6, it is the ideal salad for church suppers, or meals prepared in quantity for club and other group gatherings.

Lettuce Wedge Salad

1 head western iceberg lettuce
¼ cup Mazola corn oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Remove core from head of western iceberg lettuce. Rinse under cold running water. Drain well and place in refrigerator crisper or plastic bag. Chill. About 2 hours before serving time, cut lettuce into four or six wedges depending on the desired size per serving. Place wedges in a shallow dish or pan. Measure corn oil, vinegar, salt, pepper, Worcestershire and sugar into a jar; shake well. Pour dressing over lettuce, cover with waxed paper and refrigerate until serving time. To serve sprinkle wedges with chopped parsley; arrange on serving plate. Makes 4 servings.

To make 24 servings of Lettuce Wedge Salad, use these quantities: 6 heads of western iceberg lettuce, 1½ cups Mazola corn oil, ¾ cup vinegar, 1 tablespoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 tablespoon sugar, chopped parsley to garnish.

To make 48 servings of Lettuce Wedge Salad, double these ingredients.

Cherry Crumb Pie for Dessert

Up until now, brown sugar hasn't had a very high rating as a convenience item. It often forms a hard block in its package, comes out in lumps, and is difficult to measure accurately. Spreckels Brownulated changes all this. It is a new granulated brown sugar that flows from the package like white sugar. Its granules never stick together, and it pours into a measuring cup or a spoon with ease. All these new qualities have been accomplished without changing the old, familiar flavor.

Home economists who tested the sugar before it was put on the market have worked out recipes to show its good qualities to the greatest advantage. They found that it mixes readily with the other dry ingredients in a cake or cookie recipe, it sprinkles evenly on fruit or a fluffy pudding topping, and it is especially convenient for a crumb topping on fruit pies. The granules of Brownulated are a little larger than in white sugar, and they wont' stick together. So when the free-flowing brown sugar is mixed with flour and butter, it forms coarse crumbs that are uniform in size and content.

Because the granules won't pack down, Brownulated is slightly bulkier than other brown sugar. Therefore, some recipes may require a slight adjustment in amounts. The chart on the side of the package is an easy guide when substituting Brownulated in a recipe previously tested with regular brown sugar.

Here's an especially good Cherry Crumb Pie recipe with a Brownulated crumb topping.

CHERRY CRUMB PIE

Pastry for 9-inch single crust pie
Brownulated Crumb Topping
2 (1 lb.) cans red tart, pitted cherries in heavy syrup
¾ cup granulated sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon salt
4 drops red food coloring
½ teaspoon almond extract

Line 9-inch pie pan or ovenproof baking dish of similar size with pastry. Prepare Brownulated Crumb Topping. Drain cherries, saving ½-cup syrup. Combine granulated sugar, cornstarch and salt in large saucepan. Blend the ½-cup cherry syrup into sugar mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and becomes translucent, about 10 minutes. Add cherries, coloring and extract. Bring to boiling point again, stirring gently. Turn filling into pastry lined pan. Spoon crumb topping over filling. Bake on low rack in hot oven 425 degrees Fahrenheit 10 minutes; reset oven temperature control to 400 degrees Fahrenheit and bake 12 to 15 minutes or until topping is browned and syrup begins to bubble. Remove and cool. Yield: one 9-inch pie.

BROWNULATED CRUMB TOPPING

2-3 cup Brownulated
¼ cup granulated sugar
2-3 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon water
¼ cup butter or margarine

Measure ingredients into mixing bowl. Blend with pastry blender to form coarse crumbs. Note: If water-packed cherries are used, increase granulated sugar to 1 cup and use only one-third cup cherry syrup.

Exotic Honey Dessert for The Gourmets

Serve up a bit of the tropics, a scoop of the Arctic and the flavor of flowers all in one fantastically delicious and fantastically easy dessert creation.

Warm Honey gathered from the flowers, ice cream as cold as snow and luscious tropical fruits are combined in Gourmet Honey Sundae Cake.

Though it sounds exotic and far away you don't have to travel to the Poles or the Equator or even to your garden to make this Honey specialty. It's as simple as taking ice cream from the freezer, opening a can of pineapple, slicing a banana and cake and heating a portion of honey. In fact, that's exactly what you do.

The result will please gourmets from around the world and the best of families.

GOURMET HONEY SUNDAE CAKE

Vanilla ice cream
4 squares sponge cake
2 bananas, thinly sliced
1-3 cup diced canned pineapple
1-3 cup honey, warmed

Place a generous serving of ice cream on each piece of sponge cake. Mix banana and pineapple together lightly and spoon over ice cream. Drizzle warm honey over each serving. Four servings.

A Dressing With a Tang

Cow Palace History at S.M. Museum

Of current interest at the San Mateo County Historical Museum is a special panel showing the early history of the Cow Palace and the Visitacion Valley portion of Daly City.

This valley was inhabited for centuries by the Coast Indians and until recently was the site of many Indian shell mounds. With the coming of the Spanish in the 1760's, the area was named "Canada de Guadalupe la Visitacion Y Rodeo Viejo" and was soon put to use as a cattle ranch for the San Francisco Presideo.

When the Americans arrived, dairy farms and truck gardens were started and the Six Mile House became famous for clams. Many celebrities stopped at the House for shooting in the valley below.

The Cow Palace was started in 1935 and now encompasses some 67 acres. The main building is larger than Madison Square Garden in New York.

The Historical Museum display includes some new photographs and maps and may be seen on the Campus of the College of San Mateo until after the Republican convention.

Judge Says Hearing Fair

Superior Judge Louis B. Dematteis ruled today that Joseph Gennarella, former South San Francisco school teacher, received a fair hearing after his contract with the district was terminated.

Gennarella was not rehired in 1962 after teaching one year in Spruce School. He filed a $400,000 damage suit, charging various district officials with conspiracy, and sought a writ of mandate ordering his reinstatement.

During the course of the two-year litigation, it was established that a provisional teacher is entitled to a hearing when his contract is not renewed, if he requests it.

Judge Dematteis said today that Genarella received a fair hearing, that there was substantial evidence to support the findings of the district board, and that there was no abuse of discretion.

SUN, MOON AND TIDE

WEDNESDAY
Sun Rises ..05:48 Sun Sets ..20:36
Moon Rises 20:36 Moon Sets 05:30

The sun, moon and tide tables show the hours of the day, numbered consecutively from 0100 (1 a.m.) to 24:00 (midnight) instead of using 12 hours twice followed by a.m. or p.m. Noon is 12:00, 1 p.m. is 13:00. This is the practice followed by the army, navy and all government tide tables and almanacs.

Times and heights of tides at San Mateo Bridge, California. Furnished by Marine Exchange, Inc., from Coast and Geodetic Survey Data. Half Moon Bay tide 2 hours and 10 minutes earlier.

NOTE—In the above tabulation of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of the occurrence commencing with the early morning tide and the successive tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur the fourth occurring the following morning.

The columns at heights give the elevation of each tide above or below the level of Coast Survey chart surroundings The numbers are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or dash (-) when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given by the chart (U S Coast and Gendetic Survey)

MERCY OFFERS 24 HOUR AREA WIDE AMBULANCE SERVICE

MERCY AMBULANCE Service of Daly City offers the community and surrounding areas 24-hour radio-dispatched ambulance service. With a fleet of modern, fully-equipped units, fast, dependable service is assured. All of the Mercy Ambulance drivers are certified by the State of California and are fully trained in Red Cross First Aid. All ambulances are equipped with special oxygen resuscitators, and act as area dealers for oxygen. Kevin McDonald and his wife, Erma, are co-owners of the local firm. McDonald is a certified Red Cross instructor in First Aid.
